N THE BEE TO-DAY

WEATHER.

The official local forecast for to-day and to-morrow is cooler, with flurries of snow and high northwest winds.

Observer Hagen of the United States weather bureau says: "Yesterday's storms now central at Montreal, but the depression is sufficiently low to continue brisk northwest winds along the lakes. The cold wave in the northwest continues to advance, but is not sufficiently low to create any extreme cold here, not to stay more than 24 hours. The minimum temperature will occur Wednesday and will probably reach 18 or 20 degrees.

"The late storm left the atmosphere along its path in prime condition for snow, and snow is reported on all the lakes this morning except Ontario. The zero line of temperature extends this forenoon through western Minnesota and southern Dakota. The highest temperature here yesterday was 46 degrees; the lowest this morning was 27 degrees. Total rainfall .48 in past 24 hours."

Forecast for western New York and Ohio: Continued cold, brisk and high northwesterly winds, with occasional light snows; continued cold and generally fair Wednesday.

For Indiana and Illinois: Slightly cooler; generally fair weather to-day and Wednesday; westerly winds.

For Michigan: Colder; brisk and high northwesterly winds and generally fair weather, except light snows along the lakeshore to-day; colder and fair to-night and Wednesday.

For Wisconsin: Generally fair weather; northwesterly winds; slightly warmer and fair Wednesday.

ATTACKED BY A PANTHER.

Lynchburg, O., Nov. 24.—The residents of Clinton county, along the east fork of the Little Miami river, are in a state of intense excitement over an adventure which Ab Smith, his son Clark Smith, and Press Jones had with a panther.

The men were coon hunting, when they came upon the animal, which at once lit upon the two dogs, killing one and badly injuring the other. The men being unarmed ran for their lives and escaped unhurt.

WITH AWFUL FURY

The Storm Raged in the East Yesterday.

The Telegraph Wires Completely Demoralized.

The Storm King Held High Carnival.

Two Feet of Snow Between Cleveland and Toledo.

Trains Late and Much Damage Reported from Many Parts of the Country—Grave Fears That Many Lives Were Lost.

New York, Nov. 24.—The storm which has been so remarkable in its varied characteristics, so disastrous in its effects and far-reaching in the area of its sweep, will be recorded, especially in the logbooks of the telegraph and telephone companies as at once having equaled if not exceeded the utter paralysis wrought by the great blizzard of 1888.

In truth this has been a storm king's carnival, and as the sequel may prove, in many instances the carnival of death.

Already from numerous points come reports of damage, destruction and death, and when a cessation of the warring elements permits of a restoration of telegraphic communication with points at present inaccessible by prostration of the wires, the extent to which the seemingly wild rumors will be borne out by actual facts, is wholly conjectural.

Originating near southern Georgia or northern Florida, this resistless wave of devastation swept northward and easterly, bearing down in its path the wires, snapping off like reeds trees and telegraph poles; toppling over chimneys, tearing off roofs and crushing like play-houses of cardboard apparently substantial buildings.

Bounding over the Alleghenies it fell upon Baltimore, Richmond, Washington and Philadelphia, in turn scattering through highways and byways mementoes of its tremendous power.

In this city, early in the day, wires south and southwest failed, often several at a time, until at last all communication outside of a comparatively small territory was cut off from us.

Struggle as they would, the most expert electricians could not with all their ingenuity devise means of getting over or around the trouble, even the routes via Montreal and Toronto having been rendered useless. The storm seemed to divide itself into two tremendous arms, branching from a center in North Carolina, one arm bearing down the coast, the other sweeping northward, and veering north of Washington, describing a tremendous circle.

Bearing down northwest, it passed successively over lakes Ontario and Erie, and finally passed away to the north, disappearing in Baffin's bay.

Meagre reports continue to be received of cyclones to the south and southwest. From eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania reports outline the destruction in every direction. The damage will be many thousands of dollars in every section of the country visited by the great storm to-day.

Between Toledo and Cleveland two feet of snow fell and railroad travel is greatly interrupted. In fact, from all parts of the east come terrible reports of storm and disaster.

In the Capital.

Washington, Nov. 24.—A heavy wind and rainstorm amounting almost to a hurricane passed over this city about 12:30 p. m. yesterday, doing great damage to property.

The walls of the new Metzerott music hall, in course of construction, were blown down and several persons killed and many injured. George White, ladies' tailor, and one of his sewing women were taken out dead from the building adjoining Metzerott's and two others badly hurt.

One of the reservoirs of the Washington Gas company was struck by lightning and burned. Loss $50,000. Total losses in vicinity aggregate more than $100,000. A section of stone balustrade around the roof of the white house was blown down during the storm and crushed through the roof of the portico at the eastern entrance of the basement.

A large number of telegraph and telephone wires were naturally carried down with the mass of stone, completely shutting off all communication with the house by wire.

The section destroyed was about thirty feet long, composed of freestone in blocks and pillars, and in falling carried with it a large portion of the portico.

Along the Lake Shore.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 24.—The storm here yesterday was the worst in a long time. Rain has fallen continually since Sunday forenoon. About noon Monday it became so dark that lamps and gas were lighted all over the city. The darkness lasted half an hour, when the wind shifted to the west and the rain came down in torrents.

The wind was blowing a gale at sundown.

A railroad man who came in over the Erie road this evening said there was two feet of snow twenty miles south of the city.

At Ashtabula, O., the storm did much damage. A brick school building collapsed at 2 o'clock. The children were taken out by the teachers when they saw the storm coming, and none were hurt. Many roofs were blown off and other damage done.

At Akron the wind blew in the front of John Pringle's brick livery stable, and played havoc with signs and shade trees. The rain turned to snow about noon and the fall was very heavy, seriously interfering with telegraphic communication.

A blinding snow storm is now raging at Canton and Massillon and railroad trains are delayed.

At Canton.

Canton, O., Nov. 24.—A heavy blizzard struck this city yesterday, and while little damage was done, the wind blew at a lively rate, and the snow was almost blinding. Billboards and signs around town were blown down and lumber piles scattered around. Telephone wires were broken and considerable damage of a similar nature done. Telegraphic communication is practically shut off, and railroad trains are all late.

Out of Its Banks.

St. Marys, O., Nov. 24.—It has been raining incessantly for the past three days, and much damage is being done to the wheat crop, which is being flooded out.

The St. Marys river is out of its banks and a large quantity of oil is coming down from the upper field. Work in the oil field is seriously affected.

Driven From Their Homes.

Celina, Ohio, Nov. 24.—The continued rains for the past week are causing a great deal of damage in this section of the country, especially west of the town along the Big Beaver ditch.

The bottom lands lying along its shores are all flooded. The work of dredging this ditch has been stopped on account of so much rain. Several families have had to hunt new abiding places, the water rising into their houses.

This ditch is the outlet from the wasteweir of the reservoir, leading to the Wabash river. The reservoir has raised about 15 inches.

STOLEN BY GYPSIES.

Restored to His Parents After Nineteen Years.

Erie, Pa., Nov. 24.—A train has brought to Erie a young farmer from Somerset county, who was en route to his home near Ogdensburg, N. Y., whence he was stolen by gypsies when 3 years of age.

The young man, now 22 years old, was secured in the way of a trade from a band of gypsies. He was adopted by George M. Nichols, of Somerset county, and the story of his adoption was published a few days ago in an Elmira newspaper.

A copy fell into the hands of his brother and he was identified by a birthmark and an injury which he had received when a child. The parents of the stolen boy are Mr. and Mrs. John Saphire, and they live on the old farm from which he was kidnapped.

CAUSED BY THE STORM.

Columbus, Nov. 24.—Only two accidents were reported due to the storm. The first occurred on the Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo at Groveport, 12 miles south of here. One coal train ran into another as it was standing at the station, damaging three coal cars and the caboose of one train and the engine of the other.

The other wreck occurred on the Pittsburg division of the Pan Handle east of Dennison.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.

New York, Nov. 24.—The World has made a canvass of the coming house and says the speakership contest on the first ballot will be: Crisp, 107; Mills, 54; McMillan, 23; Springer, 15; Hatch, 13; Bynum, 10.

PLAYED A CLEVER GAME.

Well Known Men Caught Cracking a Safe.

Gardner, Illinois, Has at Last Solved the Mystery Which Has Kept All the People Guessing for Months.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 24.—For over a year the people of Gardner, Ills., have been subjected to petty robberies, the perpetrators always confining themselves to cash, never molesting valuables. The truth has now been brought to light by the arrest of two prominent physicians, who, it now appears, were systematically working the whole country around, ingratiating themselves into family circles and then secretly robbing them under the cover of darkness.

Never have such deeds been so completely covered for such a long period.

The citizens finally, alarmed for their safety, employed one of the ablest detectives in the country to look into the affair. He has been at work on the case for over six months, and so quietly has the work been carried on that it has resulted in the complete unearthing of one of the most infamous schemes ever concocted without the criminals "getting wind" of what was happening.

For several weeks Drs. McAdams and Boyes of Gardner have been under suspicion and their footsteps dogged night and day by the faithful detective.

Last Friday night the two repaired to the livery stable of James Briggs and ordered the hostler to harness up and call Briggs, who was to drive them into the country to attend a very severely injured man who required the surgical assistance of both the physicians.

By previous arrangements Briggs responded and drove them to the Gardner bank. Here they commenced operations by forcing in a large iron door in the rear of the building, and then, with a full set of professional burglars' tools, they commenced operations on the vault and safes.

All these movements were watched by the detective, who hastily called a few deputies to assist him, and who arrived on the scene just as the burglars had made their first attempt to blow the safe open.

Upon being confronted by the officers, the burglars opened fire and stoutly resisted arrest. Shots were exchanged, but the pair was finally secured after a desperate struggle. A more surprised lot of law-abiding citizens could not be found.

The capture in the act of burglary of two hitherto apparently honorable and respected citizens was too much for human endurance, and for a few minutes lynching was freely talked of, but the law and order element prevailed, and the two doctors were taken to the county jail. Briggs was on the outside during the encounter and quickly escaped.

Dr. McAdams has always enjoyed the reputation of being a good physician and a gentleman. Boyes is a young resident of the village and was a partner of McAdams solely for the purpose of robbery and is probably no physician at all.

Rumor has it that Briggs was assisting the detectives, which accounts for his safe and early flight. The rumor is probably true, as he is an old and respected resident of the place.

TOO BRAVE A MAN TO DIE.

A Strange Duel That Did Not Take Place.

Two Western Gamblers Made Fast Friends Under the Most Peculiar Circumstances in Oklahoma.

Guthrie, O. T., Nov. 24.—The particulars of a strange duel have just reached here from the Cimarron country, near the western border of the territory.

A gambler named Bassett had a quarrel with a ranchman named Weaver over a game of poker, in which the latter accused the former of cheating.

Both men drew pistols, but bystanders stopped them before they had a chance to use them. The men were both game and both dead shots. It was decided that a duel was the only thing that would settle the trouble, for it would be sure to be renewed whenever they met.

The ordinary duelling code did not satisfy them and they entered into a peculiar agreement. By its terms they were to withdraw from the room and their friends were to load one revolver. A blanket was placed over the table and two revolvers placed under the blanket, one empty and the other loaded. The men then came into the room and tossed a dollar for choice of pistols.

Weaver won the choice. The terms were that both men should draw the revolvers from under the blanket, aim and fire at the same time. One would be sure to fall dead, while the other would be unharmed. The positions were taken and the revolvers drawn. Bassett fired first, or at least he was the quickest to snap his gun, which failed to respond, showing that he had received the unloaded pistol.

Without flinching he placed his revolver on the table and folded his arms, calmly looking Weaver in the face. Weaver took his time and deliberately aimed at the center of Bassett's forehead.

After what must have seemed an eternity to the latter, Weaver slowly raised the pistol and fired the ball through the ceiling, saying that Bassett was too brave a man to die and he did not believe he had cheated. The men became fast friends and all danger of trouble is past as far as they are concerned.

CUSTAR ITEMS.

Attempted Suicide of a Farmer's Wife—Personal Mention.

Custar, O., Nov. 24.—(Special)—It is currently reported here that Mrs. Myrtle Roe, wife of Caleb Roe, three miles south of Custar, attempted suicide yesterday.

Her husband missed her from the house, and went in search of her, and found her hanging in the barn. He hastily cut her down, and her life was saved.

Henry Aubrey and Mary Ann Jungblut were married at the Catholic church to-day.

T. L. Butt returned Saturday from a trip of two weeks with friends in Athens county and western Virginia.

John Rodgers and family and Amos Rarden and family, of Indiana, are visiting Past Master Harner.

E. E. Salsberry and Fanny Feller were married last Tuesday.

Mr. T. S. Castle, Mrs. Barton and Mrs. Barber are on the sick list.

HE WILL RECOVER.

London, Nov. 24.—Prince George of Wales, the Marlborough house bulletins state this morning, has passed another good night and is progressing most favorably towards recovery.

SHEPHERD RETURNED HOME

Only to be Arrested on a Serious Charge.

The Wandering Contractor Had Good Reason for Making Himself So Suddenly and Permanently Scarce.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 24.—W. H. Shepherd, a prominent contractor of this city, went to Philadelphia on January 13 to buy building material. Not returning home within a week, his family became alarmed. His son went to Philadelphia, but could find no trace of him.

The family offered a large reward for any clew that would lead to the recovery of the missing man, dead or alive. Detectives were employed and advertisements were put in newspapers of this country and Europe.

Finally, when the family were almost impoverished, Shepherd telegraphed from Indianapolis that he was sick in a hotel there, and that some of the family should go to him. One of the sons took the first train for the west, and upon reaching Indianapolis found his sick father, who said he could remember nothing after leaving Wilkesbarre.

Among the rumors circulated about Shepherd was one to the effect that he was intimate with the wife of Mayor Sutton, of this city, and to escape prosecution had fled. A newspaper here published these rumors in July, and stated that Mayor Sutton had brought suit against Shepherd. The editors of the paper were arrested for libel. Two weeks ago the suit was put down for trial. The defense expressed willingness to proceed, but the prosecution asked for postponement. It appeared that the case would not come to trial.

A report that Shepherd was coming home was published in the local newspapers. Then the railroad stations were watched by constables armed with warrants for his arrest. On Saturday night Shepherd returned here. He eluded the officers of the law, however, until this morning, when a detective went to Shepherd's house and arrested him. The prisoner was taken to the office of 'Squire Davidson, charged, on oath of the mayor, with intimacy with Mrs. Charles B. Sutton. Shepherd gave $2,000 bail for trial.

WITH A HEART OF STONE.

Sad Case Brought Out in Police Court.

A Tyrant of a Task Master Has a Ten-Year-Old Girl Convicted of Theft on a Small Charge.

New York, Nov. 24.—All sorts of cases illustrative of the peculiar ways of the inhabitants of cosmopolitan New York comes up daily in the police courts and are treated with stoicism by the justices.

In the Special Sessions, however, one was brought to light which made the faces of the judges harden as they listened to the complainant's story.

Before he had finished his charge, which was of larceny, it was clear to all that they had made up their minds in favor of the defendant, a pretty girl, who was sobbing as if her heart would break.

She was accused by her employer with having stolen 10 cents' worth of dress-lining.

The girl's accuser is August Rafelsen, a manufacturer of infants' and children's clothing at No. 481 Broadway, and the unfortunate victim, Catharine Ryan.

To the court the girl, who was weeping hysterically, said that, needing a cloth to hold her flat-iron while pressing clothing upon which she was at work, she picked up the lining from the floor. She did not suppose she was doing any wrong.

Every one in court expected that the charge would be withdrawn, but Rafelsen insisted on pressing the case. The court, was, therefore, obliged to find the girl guilty on her own admission, and imposed the lightest sentence possible—one day in the Tombs.

Even the hardened keepers were touched by the sad story of the girl, who seemed to feel so keenly the ignominy of her position, and dealt leniently with her.

THE DEATH OF HOVEY.

The Honored Governor of Indiana

Has Closed His Career of Earthly Toil.

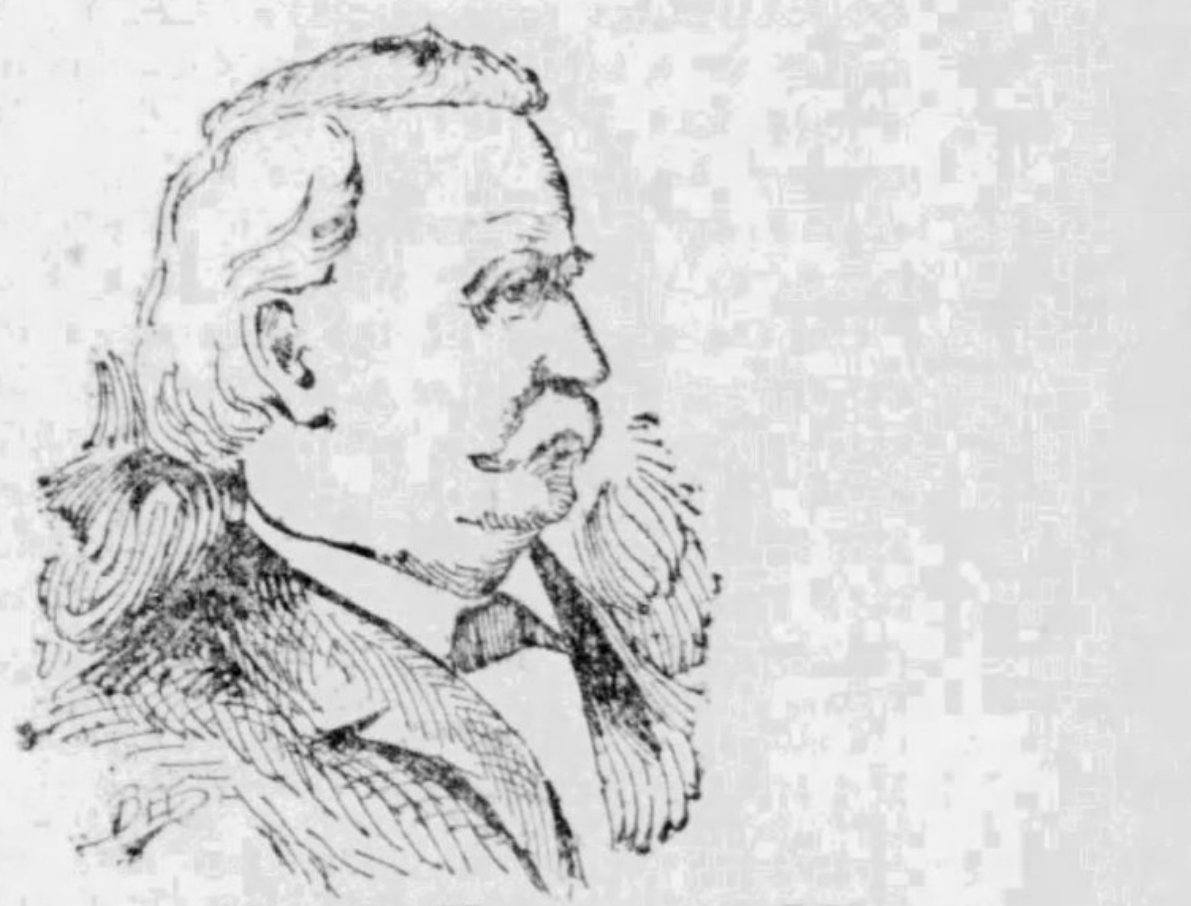
The Body Viewed by Thousands of People To-Day—To Be Buried in Mt. Vernon on Thanksgiving Day.

Indianapolis, Nov. 24.—(Special)—The announcement of Gov. Hovey's death, while not all unexpected, was nevertheless a great shock to the people of Indiana.

About three weeks ago Gov. Hovey started on a pleasure trip through the west and Mexico. When the trip had been about half completed the governor was taken suddenly ill and had to return home. He and his party arrived here last Wednesday night, since which time he has been in bed.

Gov. Hovey was born in Posey county, near Mount Vernon, Ind., in 1821. He served one term in congress and was elected governor in 1886. Gov. Hovey was twice married; his first wife died in 1862. His second wife was the daughter of the late Caleb B. Smith, secretary of the interior under Lincoln; she died in 1865, two weeks after their marriage in New York City, while en route to Peru, to which city Gen. Hovey had been appointed minister.



Alvin P. Hovey.

When the war broke out he enlisted as colonel of the Twenty-fourth Indiana; was commissioned brigadier general for gallantry at Shiloh, and he won his major generalship at Champion Hills.

At the close of the war he was military governor of Indiana, and upon him devolved the responsibility of the celebrated treason trials in which Milligan, Bowles, and Humphrey were convicted, only to be pardoned by President Lincoln.

Two children survive the governor, one being the wife of Major Mensies and the other, Charles P., who is postmaster at Mount Vernon.

The body was removed to the capitol this morning, and were viewed by a large number of people. At 2 o'clock memorial services were held by the G. A. R.

To-morrow morning the G. A. R. posts and the other civic and military bodies will turn out at 10 o'clock and escort the remains to the depot where a special train will carry the body, together with a large escort, to Mount Vernon, Ind., the governor's old home.

The train, it is thought, will reach that place about 7 o'clock and the funeral services proper will be at 1:30 o'clock Thanksgiving day.

THE FIGHT ON THE AMALGAMATED.

Zanesville, O., Nov. 24.—After five months' idleness the Ohio Iron company have notified employes that if they are willing to go back to work without the scale being signed the mill will start next Monday. Every member of the Amalgamated association has declined to go to work, and there are rumors of nonunion men being employed.

WITH A HANDSOMER MAN.

Great Sensation in a Western City.

One of Dubuque's Fairest Daughters Has Disappeared, as Has Also a Well Known Young Man.

Dubuque, Iowa, Nov. 24.—Dubuque's fairest young woman is missing—Mrs. Cora Duncan, wife of Melvin G. Duncan, general secretary of the World's Accident Insurance Incorporation of Dubuque.

Mrs. Duncan's elaborate wardrobe and jewelry and John D. Bush, the wealthy son of Dubuque's dead millionaire mayor, are also missing.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan both lived at the Le Mars' home, before their marriage, seven years ago, at Dunbar, Neb., and their conjugal career was an extremely happy one, apparently. Mrs. Duncan was the daughter of Colonel George Strait of Le Mars, president of the Accident association. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan and their little boy, 6 years old, lived with Mrs. Duncan's parents.

Monday morning, as he was about to leave for the west, Duncan found his wife in a violent fit of sobbing. He endeavored to soothe her with words of endearment, and, after kissing her good-by, hurried to the train. He was called back on business Thursday night, and on reaching home found his wife absent. He presumed that she had gone to an entertainment with friends and would spend the night with her sister, Mrs. Stillman.

Friday morning he found that she was not there. He quietly searched the town, fearing foul play. When he returned home Friday night Mrs. Strait was in tears. She had found that Mrs. Duncan's wardrobe and jewelry were missing.

IN A BEAR TRAP,

David Allan Dies of Exposure and Starvation.

The Horrible Truth Dawned Upon Two Hunters Who Were Strolling Through the Woods.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 24.—David Allan, an Englishman, who lived in Waynetawan district, started out a month ago to examine his traps, but failed to return.

On the supposition that he had lost his way, the forest was searched 10 days without result. The mystery surrounding his fate was accidentally solved by two hunters who chanced to look into a copse of bushes and there saw Allan's dead body lying face downward, both hands fastened in a bear-trap.

Allan was evidently in the act of setting the trap, when it closed upon his wrists with a vise-like grip and held him until he died of exposure and starvation.

Mills Thrown Down, Kilns Destroyed, Families Broken Up, Homes Gone, and All in a Few Moments—Graphic Description of the Seismic Disturbance.

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—The steamer Gaelic arrived from Hong Kong and Yokohama this morning, bringing details of the great earthquake that occurred in Japan on October 25. The shock was first felt in Yokohama about twenty minutes before 7 in the morning, but no serious damage was done in the city proper.

The motion of the shock is said to have continued for seven minutes, its direction being east and west.

At Fukui the local court building and several houses were destroyed and some people were injured. From Shizuoka a report was received that the Tokaido railway between Nakaizume and Homamatsu sank throughout a mile of its length so that traffic was uninterrupted.

On the morning of the 29th news of an alarming character was received. It was learned that the post and telegraph office in Nagoya, a large brick building, had been thrown down by the shock and that three of the staff were crushed to death and five wounded by the falling mass.

From the city of Nagoya itself came the yet more appalling intelligence that 500 people had been killed and many thousands wounded, and that a great majority of the houses had been destroyed or damaged.

In one cotton mill alone 100 lives are said to have been lost.

In Gifu and Ogaki, the former a town of 11,000 inhabitants, nearly all the houses were destroyed by fires that broke out after the shock.

The Japan Mail says: "It was naturally expected the accounts first received of damage done by the earthquake would prove to be exaggerated, but, unfortunately, the opposite appears to be the fact. Hitherto the records have shown that the most serious loss of life occurred in Aichi prefecture, the figures for which were: Killed, 2,190; injured, 2,711; houses totally destroyed, 35,346, and houses partially destroyed, 8,691. But the latest reports show that the worst results were in the Gifu prefecture.

A telegram from Ogaki, despatched in the afternoon of the 31st, says: 'Of 4,439 houses constituting this town, 3,556 are completely overthrown, and 765 are partially ruined. Fire has destroyed 1,473. The number of persons killed is 747, the number severely injured 520, and the number slightly injured 750.'

"It will be seen from this that houses spoken of as burned are included in the category of those completely overthrown.

"Doubtless houses said to be partially ruined are too much shaken to be habitable, at any rate so long as the shocks of earthquake continue.

"It would follow, therefore, that out of 4,439 houses constituting the town, only 118 escaped without injury.

"Appalling as is the magnitude of this calamity, still more terrible is the report which comes from Gifu prefecture, as a whole.

"A telegram despatched in the afternoon of the first instant, gives the number of killed in the whole prefecture as 5,000, the number of wounded 15,000, and the total number of houses destroyed 15,000 to 16,000.

"These figures, of course, include the casualties at Ogaki. They are evidently approximations but that they are much exaggerated can scarcely be believed, when we remember that in addition to the destruction wrought in the towns of Gifu and Ogaki, the smaller towns of Ichinomiya, Kyosu, Kasamatsu and Takegahana are said to have been wiped out altogether.

"If we accept the returns as fairly accurate, it will result that the deaths in the two prefectures of Aichi and Gifu aggregate between 7,000 and 8,000, and that the houses totally destroyed are about 40,000.

"Important potteries at Seto, in Owari, and in Mano are said to have been entirely destroyed by the earthquake. Workshops, implements, kilns and materials are rendered entirely useless and there is reported to be no hope of resuming the industries during the present year; Owari and Mino are great centers of porcelain manufacture in Japan, Hizen and Kyoto and Aizucoming next in turn.

"It is expected that the price not alone of well-known wares of Bishu and Mino but also of all Keramic products in Japan will rise in consequence of the disaster. Telegram dispatches from Gifu prefecture on the second instant and published in the official gazette says that a landslide has occurred at Mizutori in Motozu district and that it is 140 yards long and fifteen or sixteen wide and 50 feet high. The same telegram states that in the bed of the river a bank of earth and sand has been thrown up to the height of six feet, its length being 100 yards and width 20 yards. The water of the river being thus dammed up is rapidly forming a lake. Mountains in the vicinity still continue to emit loud noises and it is conjectured that the scene of these phenomena was in all probability the center of the seismic disturbance.

THE GAS TRUSTEES.

Regular Weekly Meeting Last Night.

A Number of Matters Considered—Money Ordered Refunded—Complaints from the Force Referred to the Manager.

For the first time in quite a while all the members of the board of gas trustees were present at the meeting last evening. Inasmuch as there is but little work to do or being done, it is natural to suppose that the sessions would be necessarily brief, but instead of getting shorter they seem to be extending. It was close on to midnight when the board adjourned last evening.

An hour or so was occupied in the presentation and discussion of grievances against the department.

The complainants alleged that Supt. O'Herron is discriminating against home labor. The charges were not sustained, and the plaintiffs were handicapped by the fact that part of the delegation was too drunk to be able to speak rationally. Notwithstanding this, however, the board continued to hear unsubstantial charges again and again renewed until every one was weary.

John Fox called attention to the fact that would-be consumers on Washington street, between Grosbeck and Lawrence, had advanced the money to lay a line, but so far no line had been laid. Referred to committee on city plant.

The committee on claims recommended that $881.50 advanced to lay pipe be refunded, inasmuch as the lines could not be laid. Adopted.

Claims amounting to $43,099 were reported by the committee, the sum due the Chester Pipe company, payable in certificates of indebtedness.

Mr. Backus remarked that the payment of the latter bill would leave but a few hundred dollars in the treasury.

Mr. Brown thought the pipe was bought on six and nine months' time, and if so the company was not entitled to the negotiable paper until the bills were due.

There seemed to be nothing on the books to show the exact amount of the liabilities of the board.

Secretary Brown was cross-examined on this point at length and there appeared to be a deplorable lack of system somewhere.

Final estimates of cost of connecting wells in the field were reported at $3,989 as due Kerlin Bros., payable in gas certificates.

The report was discussed at considerable length, and Mr. Brown objected to the manner of presenting final estimates.

The report was adopted, Messrs. Jones, Greene and Parsons voting aye, Messrs. Backus and Brown no.

The final estimate of R. W. Smith's contract on Nevada and other streets, amounting to $1,470, was presented.

Mr. Parsons moved to reconsider the vote on the Kerlin contract. This was carried, and it was referred to the manager for further investigation. The contract calls for cash payment, but Mr. Kerlin waived this right and the action taken will complicate matters.

Richard Jackson appeared before the board and said he had been laid off work while outsiders were kept on.

There were three or four others present and all wanted to speak at once.

Mr. Jackson said men had been employed who were incapable, and the result was bad work. The matter was laid over until later.

The committee on city plant recommended that the contract with the Kansas City Investment company be carried out.

Mr. Backus said there was a resolution on the books rescinding the carrying out of further contracts.

Mr. Brown said no resolution could be passed that could not be changed or modified at a subsequent meeting.

Mr. Parsons refused to entertain the report until the resolution had been reconsidered.

Mr. Brown appealed from the decision of the chair.

Mr. Parsons said he had no objection to putting a motion to adopt the recommendation.

The appeal was then withdrawn.

Mr. Backus said there was no money in the treasury to build the line.

Mr. Brown said they had the pipe and the contractor would lay it on credit.

The recommendation was adopted.

Mr. R. W. Smith's final estimate was then taken up and adopted.

The committee on territory recommended that the Breck well be bought for $1,800 and $150 rental for a perpetual gas right, the owners of the well to lay the connecting line. The recommendation was adopted, and it will be paid for in certificates of indebtedness.

A proposition from John McIntyre to connect the new wells with the main line was referred to the manager.

Manager Heston asked for instruction relative to supplying the water works with gas.

Mr. Brown moved that the manager request the water works trustees to make immediate arrangements for using coal, and to reduce the present consumption so as to give private consumers a fair supply.

A bill for work done presented by the Consolidated Street Car company was referred to R. W. Smith for payment.

W. H. Colwell asked for a reconsideration of the vote on the Kerlin Bros. contract.

This was done, and certificates to the amount of $3,500 were ordered paid.

The complaint of Jackson and others was again presented.

The matter was referred to the manager.

Superintendent Heston stated that Jackson was discharged for drunkenness, and the matter was allowed to drop.

VIRGINIA'S FINANCES.

Plan for the Settlement of the State's Debt.

Creditors to Yield Their Lien Upon the Commonwealth—Business Men Pleased with the Outlook.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 24.—The announcement of the agreement between the representatives of the state and the Olcutt committee of an equitable plan for the settlement of Virginia's debt is received with rejoicing throughout the state.

For 20 years Virginia's finances have been subject to more or less controversy; since 1877 the debt has been a source of almost constant agitation.

It was upon that issue alone that Mahone rode into power and secured seats in the United States senate for himself and Riddleberger; upon that issue was raised the readjuster party, which subsequently split, the democratic members of it refusing to follow Mahone into the republican ranks. This vexing question has in its time caused six duels, two or three of them resulting seriously, and numerous personal encounters.

It is now believed that the settlement just agreed upon is the most favorable that Virginia has ever attempted to make since the war. In it the creditors yield their lien upon the revenue of the commonwealth, a system which has heretofore been bitterly opposed by the people.

No one here feels any doubt about the settlement negotiated by the Olcutt committee and the commission being promptly ratified by the legislature next month. The annual interest charge provided under this plan is less than that contemplated by the Riddleberger act. The most important thing about the result is that it will immediately affect the material prosperity of the state favorably.

Gov. McKinney is receiving telegrams to-day from various portion sof the state, in which he is congratulated upon the favorable adjustment of the state's finances as agreed upon. All of the business men here who have been interviewed express the belief that the ratification of the Olcutt plan will see a new era dawn upon the state; more capital will flow into the state after that period than at any other time since the war.

THOSE DESIRING TO AVAIL THEMSELVES OF IT MUST DO SO AT ONCE.

Its Extension Limited to January 1, After Which Date it is Not Intended to Maintain it—A Few More Remarks on Medical Imposition—Short Statements of Well Known People.

Drs. Copeland and Buffett have at various times believed it was necessary to call the attention of the public to the multiform phases of medical imposition infesting this community. The lax laws of medical registration prevailing in this state render the cities of the commonwealth easy prey to such imposition. A late form of this takes on the guise of "European Specialists." Men claiming to be physicians and specialists, who have no credentials certified and easily verified in this country, can without difficulty, claim to have received their medical education in Europe, and thereby hoodwink the public. This kind of a moribund medical fake has been worked to death in other cities and the Toledo version is simply a weak though desperate imitation of the same to build up a failing business. Genuine European specialists do not masquerade in the lake towns of the states under the guise of typical American quacks. It is hardly necessary to warn the public, and yet the remarks made above may not be regarded as entirely uncalled for. We shall have plenty more to say on this subject if necessary.

* * *

Miss S. Chattinger, 2521 Cherry street, says: "After suffering a long time with catarrh in its worst form, I was induced to consult Drs. Copeland and Buffett. You can say for me that I cannot too highly recommend these specialists. They had an intelligent understanding of my case from the very start; one by one the symptoms began leaving me until to-day I am a well woman."

* * *

Mr. N. R. Dull, 2215 Lorlie street, says: "I had several hemorrhages, and this, together with the constant violent pains in my chest drove me to think I had consumption. After treating but a short time I have gained in flesh and strength. All my troublesome symptoms have disappeared. I never felt better than I do now. I freely recommend Drs. Copeland and Buffett, and my friends can testify to the rapid and wonderful improvement which I have made."

* * *

John R. Taylor, Sylvania, Ohio, writes: "I was a wretched sufferer for 25 years. I could hardly sleep at night, being almost crazed by the pain shooting from the chest to the shoulder blades. I had given up all hope of ever being any better, when I heard of the success of Drs. Copeland and Buffett, and decided to call upon them. My symptoms have all disappeared and, although 78 years of age, I feel young again, and I cannot say too much in praise of Drs. Copeland and Buffett."

* * *

Mr. Joseph Coombs, 384 Indiana avenue, says: "I had catarrh for a long time, then took la grippe, and I was pretty near a wreck when I commenced treatment with Drs. Copeland and Buffett. To-day I am so much better that my whole life seems changed. I cannot say too much in their praise, for they have certainly saved me from a fate worse than death."

* * *

Mr. W. H. Dana, 816 Collingwood avenue, says: "I suffered terribly from an aggravated case of catarrh. After taking a course of treatment from Drs. Copeland and Buffett I feel better than I have for years. I would advise all who are suffering, to not waste any time, but go at once and be cured, as I was."

* * *

Mr. C. E. McLean, 935 Indiana avenue, says: "I had been sick and wretched with this miserable catarrhal trouble, which had undermined my system for years, and each day it seemed to be growing worse and worse. I called on Drs. Copeland Buffett and took treatment. They have worked wonders in my case. My troubles have disappeared, owing to their skillful treatment, and I cheerfully recommend them."

NEWS OF THE RAIL.

The W. & L. E. Will Soon Run Into Wheeling, W. Va.

A Characteristic Communication—Local Earnings—The Wheeling Annual—Personal Points.

If the tons of mail received every day by the railroads of the country could be looked over and the humorous and characteristic communications picked out volumes of interesting reading could be compiled.

The following letter was received at a passenger office of this city, wherein the author, in his own peculiar style of lingo, and orthography, endeavors to make his wants known:

The L. E. & W. To Build a Line.

The Lake Erie & Western has raised $3,500,000 by the issue of new bonds, and next summer will build a line direct from Indianpolis to Muncie, via Anderson. This line to Muncie will drain a very productive and populous country, paralleling the Indianapolis division of the Big Four, and will be especially valuable as a feeder to the main line of the Lake Erie from Indianapolis direct. Three surveys have been made, the right of way purchased and grading and laying of track will begin early next spring.

Medical Examiners Will Meet.

A general meeting of the medical examiners of the Pennsylvania Lines Relief department is to be held at the headquarters of the department at Cleveland, December 9. The chief medical examiner of the Pennsylvania railroad and several of his staff are expected to be present. Several important questions are to be considered.

Holiday Rates for Students.

Vice Chairman Donald, of the Central Traffic association, has issued the following circular relative to holiday rates for students:

In accordance with action of this association, it has been agreed that a rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip be authorized for students of colleges, seminaries and universities going home for Christmas vacation, tickets to be sold only on certificates of the principal officer of such institution, good for continuous passage going and the western limit to cover the vacation period, but in no case later than January 11, 1892; this rate to be local in its character and not to be used as basing rate by lines in the territory of this association to points beyond its territory.

A Splendid Showing.

The annual report of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railway shows that the earnings of this company for the year ending June 30, 1891, were $177,339.87 in excess of the previous year.

Local Earnings.

The following statement shows the earnings of several local lines for the third week of November:

Into Wheeling at Last.

If nothing occurs to prevent the Wheeling & Lake Erie road will run its first train into Wheeling, W. Va., one week from next Saturday. When the line was completed last summer it was anticipated that it would be under operation into Wheeling before August, and so sanguine was the company that these anticipations would be realized, arrangements were made to run a direct train through from Wheeling to Detroit to the national G. A. R. encampment. However, a short time before a serious obstacle was confronted that delayed proceedings until the present time.

The Wheeling had arranged to cross the Ohio river over a bridge owned by the Wheeling and Terminal company, but when the time came this privilege could not be obtained. The matter was carried into the courts, and has just been settled. A new schedule will go into effect one week from Sunday, and will include through sleepers from Toledo to Baltimore, via the B. & O.

PUSH IN PERRYSBURG.

Many Fine New Buildings Have Been Erected.

Over Seventy Thousand Dollars Have Been Expended in the Pretty Village to the South of Us.

Perrysburg, Nov. 24.—(Special)—This village is now making an advance in building enterprise surpassing anything in that line during the whole period of her former history. The following items will tell the tale:

D. K. Hollenbeck, esq., acting trustee of the Way estate, is now, at the request of the town council, superintending the erection of the Way library building and literary institution. The building is from a design furnished by Bacon & Huber, and is of brick and brown stone. It is very substantial and attractive and will cost when completed about $12,000. There are 4,000 volumes of books to be placed in it when it is ready for use.

This fine institution will, in conformity with the will of Mr. Way, be used wholly in the advancement of science, literature and art among the citizens of Perrysburg, without regard to class or color.

The Catholics, under the energetic administration of their worthy clergyman, Father Rickin, are now putting the finishing touches on their handsome gothic structure of dressed stone. Its steeple can be seen from the Bee building in Toledo. Its solid materials and chaste architectural outlines reflect more than ordinary credit on the judgment and good taste of the officials, while its cost ($30,000) denotes the liberality of not a very large or wealthy class of members. It is designed to seat 800 persons.

The Presbyterians under the pastorate charge of the Rev. G. A. Adams, have also erected a semi-gothic wood structure, which is now being frescoed, and will soon be opened for worship. The design was furnished by Architect Sturges, of Toledo, and the building has been erected by a Toledo firm. It will be a very pleasant and attractive church. Its cost is stated to be about $6,000. It will seat about 450 persons.

In the matter of manufacturing enterprises there has also been an advance made in the erection of a three story brick building 40x120 feet, together with brick engine house for use by the Sheridan Wheel company. Their whole plant is now in place and ready to make a start on the completion of a few small details. It is stated that the building and the plant have together cost $20,000. The concern will start with a force of some 50 employes, which they are under contract to increase to 200.

There has also been a move pretty generally made in the erection and improvement of dwellings in the village, of which an instance or two may be given.

Mr. James H. Pierce, of the Exchange, and commissioner of Wood county for three terms, is erecting and has under roof the outline of a splendid residence from designs furnished by Messrs Bacon & Huber, of Toledo. It will cost $3,500.

There have been numerous improvements made on dwellings throughout the village, thus swelling up the aggregate cost of improvements that have been recently made in the village of Perrysburg to the sum of $70,000.

It may therefore be well claimed that the citizens of Perrysburg have made a fine showing in the interest of education, of religion and of productive industry, which of themselves constitute a broad and substantial basis on which morals, education and active industry may go hand in hand.

DOINGS IN FINDLAY.

Interesting News from the Brilliant City.

Resignation of the Rev. Dr. McCabe—A Move to Secure More Factories—General Mention.

Findlay, O., Nov. 24.—(Special)—Chas. Swarts, a well known young farmer of Liberty township, will arrive home this evening from Fredonia, Pa., with a bonnie bride in the person of Miss Mary Marstellar, to whom he was married a few days ago. His parents will give the happy young couple a warm reception and a nice surprise by having an elegant home furnished for them to move right into to go to housekeeping.

Sad News.

A young son of Harris Clymer, of Union township, this county, went to one of the Michigan watering places for his health. His father had just received a welcome letter from him stating he would be home soon fully recovered. His father started to the railway station at Bluffton to meet him, when he was thunderstruck by a telegram announcing his boy was dead. The remains arrived home yesterday for burial. The aged father is nearly frantic with grief over the sad affair.

Died.

Mrs. Henry Botts, a worthy lady residing near Rawson, died yesterday from consumption. The remains were taken back to York, Pa., for interment. The family were preparing to go there, as it was the desire of the deceased to visit her former home before she died.

New School District.

The people of the village of Rawson, nine miles southwest of this city, have decided by a vote of 74 for and 20 against making a special school district out of the village. There has been trouble for several years past over the building of a new school house. The taxpayers decided as they had to pay for the building it should belong to them exclusively. Another election will be held December 7th to elect a new school board.

Thanksgiving Services.

The Thanksgiving services in this city will be held as follows: Rev. H. C. Stuckenburg will officiate at the First Church of God and Rev. J. P. Sharp will preach at the Howard M. E. church on the north side. The other ministers of the city will assist in making the services a success. The people of Findlay generally have many blessings to be thankful for during the past year.

Resigned.

Rev. McCabe, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church in this city, has given a final decision and handed in his resignation, to take effect the first of December. He has accepted a call from Geneva, O. He has been here ever since the church was established and has made many warm friends who will regret to see him leave.

Wants More Factories.

A movement is on foot in this city among the real estate men, capitalists and well-wishers of the city, to raise a large fund as an inducement to encourage more manufacturing enterprises to locate here, this being the only inducement to locate the desirable kind. The only question in the way is how to raise the fund. The conservative part of our citizens are of the opinion Findlay has enough bonds of various kinds floating around over the country.

Mr. Carl Beckham is referee in an interesting case, which is on hearing before him to-day. Shaw, Kendall & Co. bring suit against the Mathews Gas and Oil company for several thousand dollars. The suit is brought to determine the liability of a stockholder, and some interesting facts in connection with the case will be elicited.

GOT AN INJUNCTION.

Laura E. Winter filed a suit in common pleas court to-day against the city and Samuel A. Hunter, county treasurer, to enjoin the collection of pavement assessment on lots 17, 18 and 19, Riverside addition, for the reason that the assessment is in excess of 25 per cent. of the value of the lots. Judge Lemmon granted a temporary injunction.

SIMMONS AGAIN ARRESTED.

Among the indictments returned by the grand jury in its report yesterday was one against Foster E. Simmons, of the Fisk ticket office, and he was arrested and admitted to $300 bail to-day.

The other indictment was quashed for the reason that the law requires in a misdemeanor, that the indictment must be indorsed that the same had been returned upon the testimony sworn to and sent before the grand jury at the request of the foreman thereof, or given in the name of the prosecutor.

This was overlooked and was not legal.

THE CRIMINAL DOCKET.

Up to the report of the grand jury yesterday the criminal docket had been cleaned up with the exception of three cases. The Ganslein murder trial will be continued until next term. The case against George Haskell, indicted for false pretenses, will be tried as soon as the evidence can be compiled. The case against S. T. Lewis has been set for hearing December 15. The prisoners indicted by the grand jury will be arraigned tomorrow morning, when an assignment will be made.

FOR GRAND ARMY PEOPLE.

Department Commander Warner has issued general order No. 13, calling the attention of G. A. R. men to the approaching election of post officers and of delegates and alternates to the department encampment. Each post is entitled to one delegate, no matter how small its numbers may be. The basis of representation is one delegate for each one hundred members and an additional delegate for a final fraction of sixty or more, based upon the semi-annual returns of June 30, 1891. Alternates are of the same number.

FOOT BALL ONCE MORE.

Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock sharp the final game of foot ball, between the outing and cycling boys, will take place. This is the last game of 1891 and the boys are going to play, rain or shine. The opposing teams are probably as strong as any ever matched on the outing grounds.

The outings have been victorious in the past, but the cyclers have made several changes in their team and have trained perseveringly, and a close score or victory is what the cyclers are looking forward to. Everybody who is interested in foot ball and has a good pair of lungs is cordially invited to be present.

ROW AT A RAFFLE.

There was a Thanksgiving raffle at the grocery and saloon of Anton Fluge, corner of Bancroft and Lagrange streets, last night which resulted in trouble. About two o'clock George Brown raised a disturbance in the place and was forcibly ejected from the side door. Brown took exceptions to this and at once proceeded around the building and smashed the glass in the front door. In police court this morning he was fined $5 and costs for disturbance and the same amount for malicious destruction of property.

TO TOBACCO DEALERS.

United States Commissioner Mason has sent out a circular to collectors in the several districts in the country to instruct manufacturers of tobacco that in marking the gross tare and net weight of packages of tobacco, they shall include in the gross the full weight of the package, and all its contents. The tare must include the weight of the pail, lining, covering, etc., so that the tare subtracted from the gross will give the net weight of the tobacco in it, and expressed by the stamp on it. No foreign articles—prizes, tickets, etc.—must be in the packages; they should contain tobacco and nothing else. The United States commissioner in stating that manufacturers had been adding flavoring extracts to their packages, says the practice must be at once discontinued.

HOMESTEAD LYCEUM ASSOCIATION.

This association, incorporated October 20, 1890, is a most worthy one. It was instituted for the purpose of increasing the knowledge of the sciences among the people—those who are forced from schools prematurely to engage in productive industry. It is for self-culture among adults—encouraging and helping them to attain a higher plain of intellectual enjoyment. The mental discipline produced by an hour's study, daily, of a science of their choice—one to which curiosity most directs their attention—would enlarge the understanding and shield from stupidity. It is conducted on the Chautauqua plan. Three or more, choosing the study of the same science, constitute a class, and meet once a week for interview and explanations.

The classes last winter were highly beneficial to all who entered them, and it is hoped the association will do even more good work the coming season.

A meeting of the association will be held in Clark's hall, Friday evening next, open to all. All who may desire to enter one of the classes, and to know more about the association, are cordially invited to attend.

COMPANY C's RECEPTION.

On to-morrow evening will occur the fifteenth annual ball given by the "Toledo Greys," Company C, O. N. G., at Memorial hall.

The various committees have been laboring zealously for two months preparing for this event, and the prospects are that it will out-do all other occasions of the kind in every detail.

Tony Leon's full orchestra will be in attendance. Supper will be served in the annex by Major Pflock. A neat program has been procured representing knapsack and blanket in miniature form, and consists of 24 dances.

The reception committee will consist of the following and the members will be distinguished by a white badge: Lieut.-Col. H. S. Bunker, Major M. B. Lemmon, Captain J. R. Wade, Lieut. S. E. Meek, Sergeant F. N. Baker, Sergeant H. H. Diebel, Corporal Frank Pflock, Corporal H. S. Schwager, Corporal A. E. Rippas, Corporal Frank Schelling, Privates Frank Keegan, Arthur Sautter, A. W. Gossman, Fred Gregory. Floor committee—Lieut. S. F. Tanner, chief manager, Sergeants H. J. Bitz, J. A. Geekle, Corporals J. H. Braker, J. W. Nigh, M. H. ### PROBABLE NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

Joseph Smith, of Urbana, Negotiating for the Purchase of the Commercial.

Mr. Joseph P. Smith, of Urbana, is in the city to-day, negotiating for the purchase of the Commercial, and it is said the deal will go through this afternoon.

Mr. Smith has just sold his interest in the Urbana Citizen, and is anxious to return at once to active labors. He is full of vim in his line, and should he cast his lot here will do his share to keep the republican party alive.

THE ADJUTANT GENERALSHIP.

Major Hopkins Not Hankering for the Office.

"The little 'boomlet' that has appeared in some of the papers of the state mentioning me as a probable candidate for the office of adjutant general under the incoming McKinley administration I consider as quite complimentary and for which I am truly grateful," said Major Hopkins this morning, "but really the thought of seeking that place never occurred to me, nor would I accept it if tendered on a silver platter.

"The salary of the adjutant general is moderate, and his expenses large. The enforced residence in Columbus for two years or longer, ought to deter any Toledo man from hankering after the place.

"No, I do not want the office, could not get it if I did, so please hit the man who again prints my name in the papers in connection with the candidacy.

"I believe the artillery officers of the state, as a rule, are in favor of and have indorsed Col. C. L. Kennan, of the Fifth infantry, Norwalk, for the appointment. I have just written a letter for him, and I believe he stands a fair show of securing the place. We certainly ought to have a slice of the McKinley pudding up this way, and Col. Kennan is my man. He is a veteran in the national guard of some 15 years' experience, is well-equipped for the position, both by education and military training, and while there are several other very excellent officers after the appointment my own preference, as before stated, is for the Norwalk candidate."

BEDROOM CARPETS.

There is an excellent way of laying bedroom carpets in houses where rugs are not the rule, says Good Housekeeping. Fasten small, strong hooks in the baseboard, close to the floor, and on the edge of the carpet sew corresponding rings. Slip the rings over the hooks, and the carpet is securely laid. Of course a few tacks must be put where the carpet crosses a doorway, but these are quickly removed. By this method, which is employed in the sleeping rooms of many hotels, a carpet may frequently be taken up, thoroughly shaken and replaced, without much more labor than would be required to sweep it while on the floor.

CHANGED HER MIND.

A lady called in at J. W. Greene & Co.'s piano warerooms to-day to look at a second-hand piano advertised by them for sale at $150. While looking through their stock her eye fell on a beautiful Packard organ in an elegant oak case, elaborately carved, which pleased her so much that she bought it instead of the piano. The instrument is without doubt one of the finest of the kind ever produced, and certainly the most beautiful organ ever seen in this city.

NOVEMBER.

Incessantly dropping on pavement and street
From boughs which no longer their burden can bear,
Bedraggled and trampled beneath passing feet,
The fallen leaves litter the ground everywhere.
All barren and bare are the branches that fling
Their unadorned arms to the fierce-wooing wind,
For autumn has rifled the gifts of the spring,
And left but the dream of their beauty behind.

Mr. Morris Math and other Toledo friends are in receipt of invitations to attend the marriage of Miss Celia Weidenthal and Mr. Sigmund Glick, at Cleveland this evening. Mr. Glick was formerly engaged in business in Toledo, and is well kown. Congratulatory messages were sent to the couple from this city.

The following item was clipped from the San Francisco Argonaut, November 7, and will interest Miss Julia Collins' Toledo friends: "The net proceeds from the recent kermess, were $6,500, of which Miss Collins received $1,500, and the St. Luke's hospital and Children's each $2,500." Miss Collins assisted in the kermess given in Toledo some time ago and also conducted a dancing school which was largely attended.

Weier, A. H. Krueger, H. H. Wilson, J. Schultz, M. Jennings, M. Math, W. Wegner, and W. Taft. While the entire division will receive their friends.

PHOTOGRAPHING THE LIGHTNING.

The Whole Secret Is to Wait and Let the Flash Take Itself.

But lightning-photography is a very simple operation after all. The whole secret is to wait for the lightning and let it "take" itself. The operator knows by previous experiments the exact focal length of his instrument, and so adjusts the camera that all distant objects are in distinct focus. He inserts his rapid plate and turns the lens in the direction whence the flashes came. He then counts the number of seconds between several flashes, in order to arrive at a fairly accurate estimate of the interval, after which a flash may be expected.

Allowing this time almost to expire, he removes the cap from the lens and awaits his flash. Upon its appearance he replaces the cap, and the operation is complete. The necessity for the darkness of night is readily seen, for if the exposure were made during the hours of daylight the plate would be hopelessly fogged, should the flash not present itself at the exact moment, and the great advantage of the background of dark sky would be absent.

The most favorable conditions for lightning photography occur when a thunder storm happens at night and is accompanied by vivid flashes at frequent and fairly regular intervals.

SMOKING IN THE STREET.

Yale students are getting something of a drubbing just now because of a habit which they have of smoking their pipes on the streets. This, unfortunately, is practice that is not confined to New Haven. The saunterer along the streets of classic Cambridge will meet with not a few crimson-shirted youth whose most conspicious adornment, apart from their flaring jerseys, are yellow pipes. Now, of course, it is no more of a crime for a college student to smoke on the public streets than it is for one who does not happen to be in that period of tutelage. There are certain rules, however, which all well-bred men are expected to observe, and one whose time is largely given to scholarly pursuits should certainly be in finer touch with these. Gentlemen do not smoke on the street. There is no accounting for what "gents" may do.—Boston Journal.

THE SWEETEST SONG.

With trembling fingers take the harp,
And touch the strings with gentle care,
For stern reproof is quick and sharp,
To one who lingers there;
Rememb'ring all the masters old,
Intense with thought o'er them have hung,
And of the words that yet are told,
The sweetest songs are still unsung.

The ocean has a secret wave
That breaks unseen and softly dies,
Where mermaids in the fountains lave,
And seaweeds fall and rise;
So flows the current of the heart
Where pleasing shapes are ever young,
And this the truth will ne'er depart—
The sweetest songs are still unsung.

Of course Brother Griffin denies that he is out of the race for the speakership.

The copious rains have converted the water works supply into a very fair sample of up country mud.

The Columbus Journal made a political ten strike when it secured Gen. H. V. Boynton its Washington correspondent.

What Collector Waldorf and Postmaster Brown, of Toledo, do not know about working republican politics in northwestern Ohio is of little account to anybody else.

Representative Flickinger is studying the wants of his constituents and will be prepared to do good service for Lucas county this winter.

If Clarence Brown wants a nice appointive office under Gov. McKinley he can probably obtain it if he secures Gen. Squire's indorsement.

A pointer to Congressman Haynes: if the waters of the lakes continue to be low, the Maumee river must be dredged. Please obtain a liberal appropriation. Our people will thank you.

What a roaring farce it would be if the republican legislature would undertake to reverse the constitutional right of the preceding general assembly to elect a United States senator.

Senator Pettigrew, of North Dakota, says he is for Blaine first, Harrison if he can't help it, but McKinley never. Mr. Pettigrew is a robust westerner and favors tariff reform.

The single trust that has been discouraged by the anti-trust law passed last session is as hard to find as the one man who has had his wages advanced by reason of the new tariff law.

The hardest worker for the republican cause the past few months was Major General Squire. If labor counts for anything in this state of politics why wouldn't he be a good labor commissioner?

The socialists and anarchists in Chicago are so mad they don't speak as they pass by. Each society declares the other evil in its influences and there be those who raise no question of veracity as to either declaration.

Gov. Hovey, of Indiana, died in Indianapolis after a short illness. He was a man of character, a brave soldier, a popular leader of republicans and a man of the people, else he never would have been elected Governor of a democratic state.

Murat Halstead undertakes a big job when he attacks Tammany. That ancient citadel of democracy was much more than Platt, Fassett, and the whole republican party of New York was able to handle the past few months. The tiger is very vigorous.

As the republican newspapers of character favorable to Sherman predominate those of Foraker, so the sentiment of the state is largely favorable to the Mansfield statesman. It looks now as if the Cincinnatian will "hold the sack" when the contest is ended.

New York republicans have evidently imbibed freely of the insurrectionary and revolutionary threats of their Ohio brethren, and are talking about unseating Senator Hill. What fools republican politicians are capable of becoming when they get fairly started.

People may rest assured Representative Griffin will not let the winter pass without giving the natural gas question several twists. If he shall be at all in doubt of the true state of affairs he might consult that much abused, but generally correct, man, Prof. Orton, state geologist.

There is no evidence in the news from Berlin that the young king is not of the opinion of our Admiral Luce that war is preferable to arbitration. The young man inherited his spurs, but he will never sit on the throne of kingly glory until he has won his spurs, like all his great ancestors.

The Cleveland Leader, meanly partisan, has really made itself believe Senator Brice will be unseated. How it will kick and rave when it learns, as it surely will, that the United States senate will not take cognizance of the partisan move in Ohio to displace a legally elected member of that distinguished body.

Some eastern republican papers are actually gibbering about what they call "the democratic attempt to steal New York." The organs of a party that stole two whole states for the presidency in 1876 should not complain at methods of democrats in New York that are all confined within the lines of the law.

Since Congressman Crisp returned to Washington from New York he claims the speakership with confidence. He counts over 117 votes on the first ballot. Some men are often mistaken in political calculations, though the influence of Tammany and Gorman and Hill counts for very much in the speakership contest.

The ukase of the Czar prohibiting the exportation of wheat and oats from Russia may cause a panicky feeling in some other European countries, but it is good news to holders of American grain. Fortunately our surplus is large this year, and the scarcer the supply becomes abroad the more money the grain will bring to the United States.

Majority does not rule in Ohio, it is plurality. McKinley had 382,024 votes and the combined opposition 403,862. Leaving out the prohibition vote, which was 19,829, McKinley was still in the minority over 2,000. The people's party polled 23,271 and Gov. Campbell had 300,732. More than three-quarters of a million votes were polled at the November election.

The republican national convention will be held in Minneapolis on June 7. The selection is the display of good politics. The northwest has been drifting away from the republican party for several years and this manifestation of national party interest may encourage the workers in that locality. Besides, Minneapolis will be a charming place for the delegates to go in June.

For lo, these many years the most effective lieutenant of John Sherman in Ohio politics has been Capt. J. C. Donaldson, formerly a resident of Defiance county. He is always within call of Uncle John and he treads political paths with squeakless shoes. He is a host within himself, and his presence in this campaign is apparent in every locality. John Sherman owes much to Capt Donaldson.

Capt. George Lemon calls for $100,000 guarantee fund for the next national encampment which will be held in Washington. In his manifesto he shows how the capital city will get it back and more too. All of this is true and every good patriot hopes the veterans will be well cared for and have "a good time," next year in Washington, but Pension-Shark Lemon's name suggests much. By virtue of the money he has salted down in the way of fat fees out of pensioners, he could well afford to pay the expense of one such meeting himself.

New York financial reports are encouraging. Money is becoming more plenty, and there are hopeful signs of a substantial improvement. The bank deposits the past week show an increase of $5,500,000. This gain was not due to returns from Europe, but was the influx of money from other trade centers of our own country. The foreign shipments of grain will be immense the next few months, and the wealth of the old world will greatly stimulate business this side of the water. Farmers seldom enjoy such abundant harvests as were vouchsafed them the present year, and while their earnings may not go to the purchase of new improvements and new goods, debts will be paid and money will circulate. There is everything in the money market at present to encourage the tradesmen and nothing to discourage. A snug winter will place the business of the country on a sound footing and make 1892 a prosperous year.

It is reported the republicans who are opposing the re-election of Senator Sherman are about to spring the fearful charge against him that in his public life he has not received the American citizen of African descent with open arms; that he did not take kindly to the arears of pensions act, and that he has not been wholly friendly to labor. Now these same republicans who are fighting Sherman claim to be in the majority and that they will defeat this awful man from Mansfield for re-election. Of course they have been aware of the unpardonable sins here enumerated very many years, yet they said not a word of protest. On the face of the situation there is lack of sincerity in this attack. If democrats had said such things against Sherman it would have been evidence to these present opponents of downright disloyalty. It is a queer mix and a disreputable fight the republicans of Ohio are having, but it is entirely satisfactory and pleasing to democrats. It will help along the campaign of big politics next year.

It is hardly fair for old party advocates to make light of the movements of the gentlemen who are endeavoring to form a new political organization. Give them a fair chance. They did excellently well in driving the republican party to the wall in Kansas a year ago, and the state has, according to authentic reports, prospered amazingly since that revolution. The republicans especially would better handle the alliance men gingerly. The democrats, likewise, should not complain about the new movement. Every convention of this new party is a protest against republican methods, and every election is a blow at the republican party. Even here in Ohio, a party that had its inception, organization, first campaign and election all within six months and polled 23,000 votes, support having been received in every county, is not a political organization to be laughed out of court. Give these patriotic gentlemen a chance. It is splendid augury that they are giving attention to politics and studying principles of government. Would that all classes might do the same. The more intelligently, earnestly and without prejudice they study causes and effects, together with the legislative history of the parties, and understand trade laws, the more firmly convinced will they become that the old democratic party is as near right in the advocacy of popular sovereignty—the people's rule for the people's benefit—as is possible under our system of government. Give the alliance a chance. It will be a factor of considerable strength in more than one state in 1892.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY.

It is gratifying to learn that the Ohio State University at Columbus is prospering, and gradually gaining ground, though it is lamentable that this state institution is so far behind similar institutions in Michigan and New York, which had no better original advantages than our own university. The serious trouble with Ohio is that its energies have been divided. Instead of giving one institution liberal encouragement, the state aid has been divided between three, neither of which has attained distinction beyond the state limits. If ever there was reason for maintaining at public expense colleges, so-called universities, at Athens and Oxford—the Ohio University in the former place, and Miami University in the latter—the reason long since was satisfied. There has been intense jealousy between the trustees and instructors of the Ohio University and the Ohio State University, which has been detrimental to good educational and business results. The Ohio State University ought to be accorded the full state allowance for college purposes. It has a fair beginning, at a late day, has an enumeration of 670 students, an annual income of about $125,000, is well conducted, and might do better, with proper encouragement. It is the one public institution in Ohio that has never been despoiled by politics. So far as possible the board of trustees is non-partisan, and such able friends of education as ex-President Hayes and ex-Senator Tom Godfrey are members of the board. The university is growing into a creditable institution of learning and should be given liberal appropriations by the general assembly.

AN OFFICIAL OPINION.

The report of Mr. Tingle, the supervising special agent of the treasury department, embodies some plain argument, in the way of figures, on smuggling and incidentally, the tariff question. On the border line stretching from the Lake of the Woods to the Pacific ocean—a distance of 1,100 miles, there are only four collection districts with a force of twenty men all told. With a duty of from 12 to 14 dollars a pound what wonder that 70,000 pounds of opium have been smuggled across the border into the United States from Victoria during the past year. Opium is not the only article that tempts the cupidity of these speculators who have no conscience in the matter and no respect for tariff laws.

Agent Tingle says he sees no remedy for the evil except in a reduction of the duty from $12 to at least $4 a pound, and he has the temerity to say it were better to remove the tax altogether than to undertake to enforce existing laws. Canada receives one dollar a pound on crude opium and the United States nothing on the manufactured article.

The Washington Post, reviewing Mr. Tingle's report and suggestions, goes even further than the agent and says that smuggling is carried on to so great an extent between not only Canada and the United States, but the United States and Mexico as well, that an army of customs officers necessary to properly watch the borders is simply out of the question, therefore, to quote the Post (republican authority) directly:

> The sound policy would appear to be to minimize all duties that approximate a prohibitory character or abolish them. Tariff laws that transcend the bounds of reason and practicability by reason of conditions that render their enforcement impossible necessarily become dead letters upon the statute book.

Good enough; the same argument and conclusion the Bee has put forth hundreds of times. And it applies not alone to border countries. The sea port customs houses are great establishments of speculation where every third officer is a bribetaker direct and the others get their fat just the same only in a more roundabout way.

It may be recalled that when Collector Beecher (son of H. W. Beecher appointed by Cleveland) was discharged from his post at Puget Sound, it was openly declared that his dismissal was due to his determination to report matters as he found them, with no fear or favor for suspected conspirators. The charge was not refuted and no investigation was made. If exposition of tariff workings in connection with smuggling is made along the line suggested by the report, a strong side light will burst in on the subject of tariff reform.

With all the experimenting that is going on, the fuel of the future will be provided however wood, coal and gas may go. There's oil to fall back on, and in Sunday's New York papers the invention of artificial coal is minutely described, and pronounced to be one of the discoveries of the century. A Polish experimenter combines chemicals with lignite, a substance that exists upon the earth in large quantities, and artificial coal is the result. Mr. Edelmann, the inventor, claims that he can manufacture this fuel at a cost of one dollar a ton. It is odorless and smokeless and quite the perfection of fuel, if it is and does all that is claimed for it. The inventor has been experimenting for the last twenty years and believes success is assured.

After all the pathos we have expended about the extinction of the buffalo of the western plains, it's a bit annoying to read how one "Buffalo Jones" of Nebraska has just delivered a herd of these shaggy-shouldered monsters to a syndicate of English sporting men and they clamor for more. Put an export tax on 'em. If Mr. Jones raised them on his own farm perhaps the government needn't interfere. What with hogs and buffaloes, this country is able and willing to furnish Europe the useful and the ornamental in the way of beasts as the demand shall be.

Wednesday of this week the international immigration conference convenes in Paris. Major Fred Brackett is there for the United States. Delegates will go to Havre, from which port more Italians and Hungarians than French sail, twenty to one, and inspect vessels with an eye to steerage accommodations. As the announcement is made weeks in advance there is plenty of time to scrub up and set things in order.

Three phonographic records of Florence, the actor, of scenes in the Rivals, are preserved. So one day, next year or a thousand years, as the fates shall elect, the hearty voice of "Sir Lucius O'Trigger" will again be heard, as perfect as when Florence walked the boards in his make-up. Wonderful is the phonograph.

Ceylon wants to bring some sacred white elephants to the world's fair. Chicago is a hard place for anything sacred, but if the grand keepers of the holy elephants will consent, let the experiment be tried.

Brooklyn bridge is ready to take its place in song and story. It had its first case of suicide Sunday—a sensational and mysterious one.

"Westward the star" etc. Minneapolis gets the republican national convention.

People's party presidential ticket, "Peffer and Polk"? What an alliterative joke.

Medieval and Ignorant.

The czar is a medieval and therefore an ignorant economist. He first drives thousands of wealth-producers out of Russia, and when he finds that the crops are short he issues a ukase commanding that wheat shall not be exported. Now the result of that will be that the price of wheat in London will go up. American securities advanced yesterday on the strength of the news. All that the czar has accomplished is to make bread dearer to every one, and especially to his own subjects.—New York World.

A Tip for Office-Seekers.

Servia's proposal to buy off her King Milan with $400,000 a year to get rid of him is interesting to Americans. It shows that you can't buy a flawed off-colored royal soul under the same sum paid annually that buys a republican cabinet seat out and out. A proud country will mark the contrast with dissatisfaction, and may require a grand old party's ntxt( platform to appraise its honors at a material advance.—New York Evening Sun.

Reaping as They Have Sown.

One by one the iron works of the east succumb to the blight of high tariff, combined with freight discrimination. The Cambridgeport iron works, near Boston, is the latest victim of the ruinous policy of taxing raw materials. Unless there shall be a change in the practice of the government in this regard the iron industry in the east will speedily become extinct.—Philadelphia Record.

And Will Be in Future.

As the body presided over by Speaker Reed sought to dissipate the surplus and increase the expenses, the new house should seek to economize, and to curtail the public burdens. This is democratic principle and democratic policy. It has also in the past been democratic action.—Baltimore News and Observer.

Not Sometimes but Generally.

The editorials of the American press are a great lever. They set people to thinking. Take the editorials in the New York Sun, for instance. Sometimes after reading one you have to think for two or three days to discover what it means.—Baltimore Critic.

The Occupation of the Administration.

The republican who hears a grating noise, otherwise unaccountable, can explain it as the result of the great energy the administration is showing in scraping the bottom of the treasury.—St. Louis Republic.

Retaliation of the Fat-Fried.

It ought to be explained whether the cut of 20 per cent. in the Pittsburg wire works is the result of the election in Ohio or merely a celebration of the 50,000 republican majority in Pennsylvania.—Kansas City Star.

This Is Business.

The Horace Boies club, of Davenport, with its membership intact and money in the treasury, is in line for 1892. Every county in Iowa ought to have such an organization.—Davenport Democrat.

CONCERNING CANDIDATES.

Why is President Harrison ducking now? He is not likely to be hit by a renomination at this time.—Chicago Mail.

In nominating Gov. Russell for the presidency, the Boston Globe is as crazy in its cackling as a demented old hen on discovering a door-knob in her nest.—Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette.

William E. Russell would carry, as democratic candidate for president, the whole south, with New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts, and be elected. Why not nominate him?—Boston Globe.

Since Samuel J. Tilden could not write a will designating his own heir it is believed that Benjamin Harrison will not be able to write a message making himself the sole residuary legatee of his own administration.—St. Louis Republic.

Why not make the republican ticket "Blaine and McKinley?" Mr. McKinley represents the high tariff and Mr. Blaine suggested the reciprocity dodge. Mr. Harrison has nothing to do with either except as a follower of these worthies.—Courier-Journal.

The best newspapers, north and south, are frank and positive in their avowal of the conviction that Cleveland is now certainly the logical candidate of the democratic party for president. North, south, east and west, this is the opinion, the controlling opinion of the press and of leading men.—Memphis Commercial.

But as the situation exists to-day the promise is that Grover Cleveland will be nominated by acclamation. If Boies is placed by his side on the ticket we will keep the republicans very busy in every western state while the eastern democrats make certain of New York, Connecticut and New Jersey. The south has always been able to take care of its democracy and will be again. —Kansas City Times.

FOSTORIA GOSSIP.

Notes of Personal and General Interest to Bee Readers.

Fostoria, O., Nov. 24.—(Special)—Daniel Rice, a pioneer of Wisconsin, who removed there from Sandusky county, this state, 35 years since, is visiting relatives in this city.

J. B. Eisenhart, of the regular army, is home on furlough, from the Columbus barracks, en route to Angel Island, Cal., where he will enter the regular service.

Two toughs, named Wid Franklin and W. S. Cozen, enticed a glassworker who was the worse for fire-water into the shoe shop owned by Franklin's father, on Saturday night, and relieved him of all he had—$17. The robbed man gave the alarm, and the two men are now in jail.

Mrs. C. E. Sergeant has returned from Columbus and Marion, accompanied by Mrs. Quigley and her daughter, of the latter place.

The Fostoria Dancing club, composed of some of Fostoria's best young people, give their first dance of the season tonight, with about sixty couples in attendance.

CLEARED SIX THOUSAND.

Earnings of the Steamer City of Toledo in 1891.

Notwithstanding the many drawbacks and accidents experienced by the steamer City of Toledo during the excursion season just closed, she made a splendid record as a money maker, and the stockholders are more than pleased with the result.

It is understood that she cleared over and above all expenses $6,000.

The effort that is being made to have her sent to Chicago during the world's fair will probably be successful, although some of the stockholders seem to think she can make as much money running between Toledo and the islands.

BADLY CUT.

A Saloon Row With Serious Results for Two of the Combatants.

A serious cutting affray occurred yesterday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock in the saloon on the corner of Erie street and Nebraska avenue, and as a result two young men received badly slashed faces. William Nish and Paul Miltz, the victims, became engaged in a quarrel with two other young fellows named Charles Faber and Claude St. Clair. In the fight which resulted the first mentioned men were badly cut about the face with razors in the hands of the other two fellows who escaped before the police arrived.

Nish received a terrible gash from over his left eye through his cheek and ending under the ear. Miltz had a cut from his mouth across the cheek to his left ear. Dr. Becker was called and dressed the men's wounds, after which they were taken home. Nish lives at 1040 Buckingham street and Miltz's home is at 729 Nebraska avenue.

Dr. Becker says that the wounds will not prove fatal, though they are very serious.

Up to this afternoon Faber and St. Clair had not been arrested.

EVIDENTLY DIDN'T OBJECT.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 24.—Rev. Walter Nelson, a Baptist minister at Bayham, Ont., was arrested here on a charge of abducting Miss Rosabell Teetzel from St. Thomas. Miss Teetzel is 21 years old and the minister can not be held on the charge.

GAUMER WANTS HIS SEAT.

FONSECA RESIGNS.

WHO INVENTED THIMBLES?

The Dutch have already claimed the credit of having invented thimbles, and by tacit consent their claim was allowed up to a few years ago, but, unfortunately for the reputation of the Holland tailors, about the middle of this century, the antiquarians delving in the ruins of Herculaneum, uncovered a jeweller's shop, and found half a dozen gold and silver thimbles of the most approved modern pattern.

Since then several thimbles have been discovered in the Egyptian catacombs, in mummy cases antedating the Christian era 15 to 18 centuries.

So how old is the thimble, or by whom it was invented, are questions that cannot be answered.

The name is believed to be a perversion of thumbbell, as the thimble was formerly worn on the thumb.

The manufacture of thimbles was introduced into England from Holland in 1695 by a metal worker named John Softing.

The old bondmen did not all remain in the South. There are about 8,000 colored men in New York City who were born slaves.

THE ALLIANCE.

The farmers' alliance reports a deficit in its treasury. It is thus deprived of its strongest cohesive influence.—Boston Herald.

The chief lesson taught by the recent election in Kansas is that the farmers' alliance did the republican party of that state a great service in ridding it of Ingalls.—Chicago Times.

As the getting down of the farmers' alliance into the political field has been promptly followed by its fighting with itself, it might save further casualties should it at once resume its old position on the fence. —Philadelphia Times.

The alliance convention has its uses. It serves to call the declining order to the attention of the public, and the results of the foolish meddling in politics to the notice of the order itself.—Providence Journal.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Considers the Question of Gas—Loan Authorized—Routine Business.

The School Board held a short session last night.

The fuel committee waited on the Northwestern Gas company, in the matter of gas for the school buildings and the following communication was read by the clerk:

I submit herewith prices fixed by the company for a supply of gas fuel for your school buildings named in letter of September 3d, as follows:

Nebraska, main building, from Nov. 1 to May, per month, $75.00.

Nebraska annex, from Nov. 1 to May 1, $25.00.

South East Toledo, from Nov. 1 to May 1, $45.00.

Raymer, from Nov. 1 to May 1, $55.00.

Ontario, from Nov. 1 to May 1, $55.00.

Hoag, main building, from Nov. 1 to May 1, $55.00.

Hoag annex, from Nov. 1 to May 1, $9.50.

Washington, from Nov. 1 to May 1, $70.00.

These prices are not subject to discount. One-half rates will be charged for the month of May, and should you desire to continue the use of gas during June it will be furnished free.

If your honorable body prefer, we will furnish gas at the meter rate fixed by ordinance, provided the necessary plumbing is done for placing the meters. In either case the contracts will expire the 1st of June, 1892, and are to be made subject to the rules and regulations of the Northwestern Ohio Natural Gas Co. These rates do not include janitor's house, which will be charged by the regular mixer and meter rate as fixed by ordinance for domestic consumers.

M. B. DALY, Superintendent.

Mr. Major moved that the mixer rate be adopted.

Mr. Schlingman was in favor of the meter rate.

The matter was referred to the fuel committee with power to act. The fuel committee will figure up the expense of fuel gas and compare the expense with the cost of coal, and whichever is the cheapest, making allowance for the convenience of gas, will be adopted.

The building committee was instructed to purchase more seats for the Jefferson street school.

The usual schedule of bills, amounting to $3,227.69, was approved.

The teachers' pay roll, amounting to $12,860.66, and janitors' $572.25, were approved.

Eighteen automatic pencil sharpeners were ordered.

The stenographer employed temporarily in Superintendent Compton's office will be permanently engaged.

Treasurer Optiz advised a loan of $17,000 for 45 days, which was approved.

Sherman street school is too crowded, and steps will be taken at once to remedy the condition of affairs. The board is considering the advisability of building an addition.

A BACHELOR'S EXPERIENCE.

How He Gets Along at a Salary of $1,200 a Year Not Easy to Explain.

What is the cost for a winter in Washington to an ordinarily careful young bachelor? In the first place his dancing club takes, say $30. Then his own club for half a year is about $25. To live for six months at a moderately expensive boarding house in a small room is $40 a month, or $240.

He smokes cigars and cigarettes, and if he is a generous smoker this will amount to about $50. Supposing him to be a moderate club man, his club bill for "sundries" will be about $10 a month, or $60. Now for his clothes. He may not need a new dress suit, so that can be left out, but he will be quite certain to buy two good suits, and hats and shoes and various other adornments.

Of course he must go to a good tailor, and these two suits will cost $125. He must have say three pairs of shoes, and not being over-extravagant will get them for $21. Cravats, gloves, hats, shirts, collars and cuffs may be estimated roughly at $106.

To add up, then, gives a total of $417 for what may be termed luxuries and $240 for necessary living. Of the $417, the dancing club, the social club and the club bill for "sundries" are purely unnecessary.

The smoking, if he uses a pipe and only smokes moderately, need not cost more than $10, and the clothes could be bought, together with the cravats, etc., for less than $100. If he chooses to do it, therefore, he could live for $110 outside of his board; a winter would cost him more than $350.

How on earth does a young bachelor who only gets $1,200 a year make two ends meet at the end of the year? The estimate given above is a very moderate one, and yet the six months of the winter have amounted to $657, without taking into account a single ticket to the theater or a single "blowout."—Washington Star.

SAWDUST WITHOUT BUTTER.

A celebrated jurist, when consulted by an anxious father concerning his son's qualifications for the bar, asked quietly: "Can you son eat sawdust without butter?"

It is pluck, it is bull-dog tenacity of purpose, it is a certain stubbornness of perseverence that wins the battles of life wherever they may be fought. It is this power to eat sawdust without butter that brings success. It is this nameless quality that has enabled many a student to wait on table at the summer hotels; that makes it possible for the needy professional man to trim with the scissors the frayed edges of collar and wristband, to mend a worn dress-suit with porous plasters, and in this patched condition appear on social occasions whenever advancement requires the sacrifice. A diet of bread and milk (or its equivalent), among strangers in a foreign country, has no terrors for the true-hearted art-student, even when third-class travel and thread-bare garments are added to the list of limitations. "Impossible!" exclaimed Mirabeau upon one occasion, "Talk not to me of that blockhead of a word!"

Great men, whatever else may characterize them, have always this one salient characteristic—that they have made up their minds. And the mind has staid made up. And trust in personal inward conviction has not wavered. And the work has been done in spite of earthquake, volcano, or tornado, or the deluge of dreary monotony. Success has crowned these efforts. Sawdust has been eaten without butter. There is but one path. Sacrifice is the inevitable conclusion and condition of life. And whoever recognizes and accepts with cheerful courage this knowledge, walking humbly and patiently, has found the key of success. —Continental Magazine.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Xenia, O., Nov. 24.—The 7-year-old daughter of John Shephard, superintendent of the Green county infirmary, while playing around in one of the upper halls of the institution, fell over the balustrade from the second story to the floor below, receiving injuries from which it is feared she will not recover.

WISE FOLKS' SAYINGS.

No gift can make rich those that are poor in wisdom.—Julia Ward Howe.

I look upon death to be as necessary to our constitutions as sleep. We shall rise refreshed in the morning.—Franklin.

There is not anything in this world perhaps that is more talked of, and less understood, than the business of a happy life.—Seneca.

Energy will do anything that can be done in this world and no talents, no circumstances, no opportunities will make a two-legged animal a man without it.—Goethe.

Misfortunes are the only masters which can usefully instruct us; it is they alone which can wring from us that confession of having erred so costly to our pride.—Bishop Basnet.

I own myself the friend to a very free system of commerce, and hold it as a truth that commercial shackles are generally unjust, oppressive and impolitic; it is also a truth that if industry and labor are left to take their own course they would generally be directed to those objects which are the more productive, and this in a more certain and direct manner than the most enlightened legislature could point out.—James Madison.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Washington was a colonel in the army at 22, commander of the forces at 42, president at 57.

Richard W. Thompson, who was Hayes' secretary of the navy, is the last survivor of the Twenty-seventh congress.

Rachel Sherman's work on the memoirs of her distinguished father is said to give marked evidence of literary ability.

Gail Hamilton says that she has discarded politics and is devoting herself exclusively to theology, with Mrs. Maybrick as an incidental diversion.

Rudyard Kipling is accredited with saying of Irish soldiers that they fight like fiends, argue like children, reason like women and obey like men.

Sir Edwin Arnold reads his poems from the book, and when he wishes to turn a page he puts three fingers in his mouth and wets them with his tongue.

Of late Walt Whitman has refused to see the visitors who come in numbers to call on him. He has been obliged to take this precaution in self-defense against the idle curiosity which brings them to his doors.

Mrs. Ole Bull has never lost her love for the people of her husband, and she still takes a very lively interest in Norwegian musical matters. On the occasion of a Scandinavian musical festival she sang, accompanying herself on the piano.

Chief Justice Holt of Kentucky has a double who not only looks like him, but has the same name. Unfortunately everybody doesn't know this and Justice Holt frequently finds himself credited with registering in places he never thought of visiting.

The lamented Florence's demise reminds stage-wise folks that Joe Jefferson, with whom he was professionally associated for the last two years of his life, is probably the richest actor in the world, his property in the United States alone being estimated at half a million dollars or more.

This is the day of the private secretary. Col. Lamont draws more in salary now than the earnings of his late great chief; Col. Williams passes over from the Hill to the Flower administration at Albany, and Arthur James Balfour, just 13 years ago, was private secretary to the Marquis of Salisbury, his uncle, whom he may succeed in the leadership of the tory party in Great Britain.

Wolcott Balestier, the young American writer who has collaborated with Rudyard Kipling in the novel, "The Naulahka," which the Century will print, is at present a resident of London, where he represents an American publishing house. He was born at Rochester, N. Y., less than thirty years ago, and he has lived and attended school there and at Baltimore, Washington, New York, Vermont and Denver. His college is Cornell, and he studied law at the University of Virginia.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH THE TEETH!

If our teeth were renewed as are our nails, they might not need constant care. But teeth don't repeat themselves after childhood. The proper thing to do is to use SOZODONT, which preserves their health and beauty. It never fails.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Steubenville, O., Nov. 24.—Joseph D. Morrison, a musical professor, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor and pen-knife. Sixteen different gashes were made in the throat, but the windpipe was not severed, although a number of small arteries were cut, and the chances are only about one in five for his recovery.

WHO ARE BRAIN WORKERS?

Business Men and Clerks Sure.

The brain-workers of the world are business men and clerks, and they do far more real, hard brain-work, more exhausting expenditure of nerve and brain power in this pushing age than all literary workers combined. That is what makes so many nervous, with worn out nerves, tired brains and exhausted energies. There is headache, a dull, dizzy, bad feeling head, confused thought, loss of memory, despondency, sense of anxiety, loss of appetite, malaria, dyspepsia, constipation, sleeplessness with tired waking, without ambition to take hold of the day's work.

Anything which exhausts the nervous energies will produce these symptoms, and all should at once use the great nerve and brain invigorator, DR. GREENE'S NERVURA, which will immediately restore power to the brain, strength to the nerves, and vigor and health to the body. Purely vegetable and harmless. Druggists, $1.00.

"I take pleasure in testifying to the great virtues of DR. GREENE'S NERVURA. I could not attend to my business more than half the time. I had headache, rheumatism and dyspepsia. The doctors said I had a bad state of my blood, liver and kidneys also. I certainly felt very bad indeed. I got much better the first month and am now entirely cured, and have DR. GREENE'S NERVURA to thank for curing me.

OLD AND NEW.

I.

Oh, a new fountain pen is a very good thing
When it works!
But, oh, how you're tempted to give it a fling
When it shirks!
You pound it and shake it. It won't work, by jingo!
And the best you can do is to make the old thing go
By jerks.

II.

You spatter the blotter, you pound with your fist—
It's no use.
The ink you start stops coming when you desist,
Like the juice
Of an orange sucked dry, that parched lips might grow to.
And your thoughts, if you spoke them, would sound like "Oh, go to The deuce!"

III.

Being Christian, you keep all your thoughts to yourself,
As you should,
And you throw your new prize on the very top shelf—
Well and good!
You hunt up your inkstand, you dip your quill in it,
Then you write for ten hours ninety-six words a minute—
Or could.

—Somerville Journal.

BEESWAX.

The man who believes most sincerely in the efficacy of prayer is the man who never prays for what he hasn't worked for.

Recently, in St. Louis, a large building in one of the best business streets of the city was torn down simply because it was thought to be "hoodooed."

Apples weighing three pounds each have been grown in Southern California, and apples that weigh two pounds and a half are so common as to excite no comment.

A French beekeeper has experimented with his bees as carriers of dispatches. One difficulty of the bee service is that the insects will not return over a distance of two or three miles.

A dam is being built in Los Angeles county, California, which will be the highest in the world. Its hight will be 150 feet, and it is made of blocks of granite weighing from five to ten tons each.

There is at Baltimore, Ireland, a fishing school where boys receive instruction in all branches of a sea fisherman's work, and in such allied industries as net-making, boat-building, cooperage and sail-making.

While making a bolt in the steel works at Homestead recently a workman turned off a shaving 265 feet in length. A shaving 171 feet in length is exhibited as a great curiosity in the Woolwich arsenal, England.

A sign of politeness in Thibet on meeting a person is to hold up the clasped hands and stick out the tongue. When a man dies one-half of his property goes to charity and the other half to the lamas. His family gets nothing.

Miss Lenore Snyder, the young prima donna who has been so successful in pleasing London audiences, is a western lassie, and, like Geraldine Ulmar, Emma Eames and other noted stage vocalists, is a graduate of a church choir.

William Orr, who died at his home in Troy, N. Y., recently, claimed to have invented and used the first cylindrical wall paper printing press, and to have been the first to combine wood fiber with rags in the manufacture of printing paper.

When Currier Downing, of Ripley, Me., left home 75 years ago he planted an acorn in the dooryard. When he returned the other day he found that his acorn had produced an oak tree nine feet in circumference, with branches extending 40 feet.

In some of the rugs from the Orient the knots of the threads are so fine that they cannot be seen by the eye. No machinery has been introduced there yet for making rugs or carpets, each tuft and knot being tied by deft fingers.

The rare phenomenon of red snow occurred in the past spring at Salt Lake City. This is caused by the development of a minute fungus which likes to germinate in snow under favorable conditions, called protococcus nivalis.

The annual production of sawed lumber in the United States would load a train of cars 25,000 miles long. Adding the timber for railways, fencing, mining and export, the train would be 72,000 miles long. Adding to this firewood, etc., it would be 288,000 miles long.

The Empress of Russia, in commemoration of the French exhibition in Moscow, has received a splendid artistic gift in the shape of an egg of enameled silver. In the egg, which may be opened, lies a small bouquet of violets made of brilliants, held together with a ribbon of the same stones. The egg is suspended by a ribbon of rose enamel, so finely made that it resembles one of silk.

The Russian newspapers are reporting a singular discovery in Central Asia. They say that in Russian Turkestan, on the right bank of the Amou Daria, in some rocky hills near the Bokharan town of Karki, a number of large caves have been explored, which were found to lead to an underground town built apparently before the Christian era.

A late confession is better than no confession at all. According to the Chicago Times Mrs. Nina Van Zandt Malato says that she hates anarchy and that her great love was for August Spies and not for his cause. It would seem that this is a matter of more interest to Mr. Malato than to the general public, and it may be conceded that the time has arrived for the press to discontinue its attention to this rather hysterical young lady.

There were recently taken from a small creek near Stringtown, I. T., a genuine curiosity in the shape of a petrified horse, which had, beyond doubt, been lying in the bed of the stream for many years. The creek, which is known as Mason's Ford, has been dwindling away for some time, owing to the failure of the spring by which it is fed, and is now but a shallow rivulet, and a number of Indian relics, human bones, etc., have been taken from its bed.

Any man who has ever built a house will agree with the architect who says that no more than one house in ten is finished at the time mentioned in the contract, and probably half the houses are completed from two months to a year behind time. In large buildings the familiar device is a clause in the contract forfeiting, on the part of the builder, a fixed sum for each day's delay, but when such a clause appears the contractor allows something for it in his bid, so that the choice is presented of submitting to delay or paying well for promptness.

A cocoanut tree that weighs six tons is to be transferred from Honolulu to the public park in San Francisco. In a trench around the tree, which stood in a grove near Honolulu, a massive box was built to inclose the roots. Above the box was a frame that had jackscrews for lifting the entire mass. After the tree had been raised it was canted and its long leaves were gathered together and tied. The nuts were wrapped in soft sacking. By hydraulic power the mass was raised on a truck that carried it to the beach, where it awaits shipment.

A curious story comes from Wenghsiang. The town suffers from inundations of the Yellow river, and two years ago a movement was started by the local magistrate to build a breakwater. The chief difficulty lay in the want of sufficiently large stones. Suddenly, however, to the astonishment of the community, a heavy storm of wind and rain deluged the country and brought down an endless quantity of huge stones exactly suited to the purpose. The people naturally regarded the incident as a direct manifestation of divine power in aid of a great public undertaking, and the governor of the district cites a fact which conclusively proves the supernatural origin of the event. One of the stones, he says, which was as large as a house, was inscribed with seal characters, two of which, meaning "work" and "stone," respectively, he was able to discipher.

Says a hotel man of New York city: "The modern fashionable hotel will not be complete in future without special rooms for valets. The newest system in this line now is a double closet. The guest goes to bed at night, leaving his raiment hanging in a special closet abutting on the corridor. In the morning the valet comes, unlocks the door opening on the corridor, takes out his master's clothing, prepares it in a special apartment set aside for the purpose, and returns it to the closet without disturbing his employer. The system of double doors is used in these closets, so that no noise reaches the sleeper. The closets are large enough to accommodate a man's entire wardrobe, and there is a tablet upon which he can describe the outfit he desires to wear the next day. When he gets up in the morning everything is in readiness for him."

Conservatives Are Alarmed in England,

And Are Taking Steps to Regain Lost Ground.

The Workingman Comes in for a Share of Consideration in the Declaration Upon which the Battle is so Soon to be Fought.

London, Nov. 24.—The conservative party is up in arms from one end of the United Kingdom to the other and its leading representatives to the number of about 3,000, commenced at Birmingham, yesterday, what is justly looked upon as a most important meeting in the history of Toryism in England.

The recent Liberal victories at the polls have in the popular mind been the shadows of a coming event which the Liberals declare will sweep the conservatives from power and inaugurate a reign of democracy not to say republicanism in England which may have the most important bearing upon the future of the British empire.

With the echos of the great Liberal conventions at New Castle recently still in their ears, the Conservatives have seen that it was suddenly necessary to make as fine a showing as possible at Birmingham, and so that city is fairly packed with enthusiastic Tories.

Mayor Lawley Parker opened the proceedings by holding a reception at the town hall to which over one thousand five hundred guests were invited and over two thousand attended. To-day the conference of the union (convention) was held in Masonic hall, under the presidency of Lord Windsor.

The platform as semi-officially out-lined in advance is as follows:

"Cessation of special legislation; parliament's attention to be concentrated upon British affairs; extension of local self-government by the creation of district councils; allotment of small holdings for laborers under the direction of the district councils; legislation for the arbitration of strikes; a "free breakfast table," otherwise, the lowest possible exaction on tea, coffee, cocoa, etc.; the vesting of the power of licensing in the new councils with compensation for publicans who may be deprived of their license and the introduction of a bill providing for pensioning old people upon the insurance plan."

In the platform, in addition to the planks already referred to, the old Tory war cry as to opposition to church denominational schools, and the preservation of the house of lords will be raised, and every effort will be made to outbid the Liberals for the workmen's votes.

It is understood, however, that the Conservatives have definitely decided upon the rejection of local option in the matter of eight hours of work per day. On the other hand, the conference will be asked to declare in favor of increased liberal representation and the creation of a labor department under a cabinet minister whose title will be labor minister.

The government will also be asked to decide in favor of increasing the number of appointments of workmen as factory inspectors and to appoint a number of women inspectors of factories.

It is also understood that the "one man-one vote" principle will be denounced and that the ballot act should be amended as to exclude illiterate voters. The tariff will be touched upon in the following resolution to be offered by Col. C. E. Howard Vincent, C. B. M. P., a member of the council.

"That the principles advocated by the United Empire Trade League, favoring the extension of commerce upon a preferencial basis throughout all parts of the British empire will be of the highest collective and individual advantage; and further that the provisions of any treaties imposing limitations upon the full development of trade between the United Kingdom and other parts of the British empire should be abrogated."

Mr. W. Sargent, from North Islington, will also offer the following:

"That this conference expresses the earnest expectation that Her Majesty's government will see their way clear before the next election campaign to make some decisive declaration of their intention to endeavor to promote mutually favoring 'customs arrangements between the colonies and the home country.'"

The above points about cover the Conservative platform and shows the weapons with which they will try to fight off the Liberals who are so confident of victory at the next election that the ultimate result seems to them an assured fact.

This is why they are so anxious to bring the issues to the polls and why the Conservatives are not at all anxious to gratify their enemies.

THE FIGHT IS NOW ON.

The Speakership the All Absorbing Question.

The Smoke of the Convention City Battle Has Cleared Away Only to Reveal Another Just as Intense.

Washington, Nov. 24.—As soon as the dust kicked up by the members of the national republican committee and the delegations fighting for the location of the national convention has settled, the speakership fight will open in earnest.

The hotel lobbies are uncomfortably crowded and elbow room is at a premium. In a democratic sense nothing like it has been seen since Carlisle's first elevation to the chair, when he had his memorable fight with Sam Randall.

After that promotion succeeding contests for the gavel were, while the house was democratic, mere forms.

No one disputed the speakership with the great Kentuckian. In this contest, as in that, all the interest centers in the speakership, although the place hunters are watching with anxious eyes the struggles for the lesser offices, upon the result of which their success may depend.

The candidates for speaker have opened headquarters at the various hotels, Mills, Hatch and Bynum at Willard's hotel, and Crisp, McMillen and Springer at the Metropolitan.

For the minor offices Judge Yoder seems to have a cinch on the sergeant-at-arms place. No one has been mentioned to oppose him, and even if there was Judge Yoder would have a walk away.

For clerk Mr. Kerr, of Pennsylvania, an ex-member of the late lamented congress is a prominent candidate. The most prominent perhaps.

For doorkeeper ex-Congressman Turner, of New York, is forging ahead, Tammany supporting him.

It may be interesting to know that the social season at the White House will not be mapped out until after Congress meets—so says Mrs. McKee.

Mrs. McKee will also break the "evening party" record this season. The date of the event is not known, but the social world thinks it will be in February.

On Thanksgiving day there will be an extra leaf put in the extension table at the White House and the President and his entire family will give thanks collectively.

BLUE LIPS AND COLD FEET.

Why Ladies Look so Miserable in Cold Weather—A Few Suggestions about Health and Complexion.

"Why do women look so pinched, blue and cold? Nearly every lady I saw on the street to-day had drawn features, blue lips and seemed shaking with the cold."

The gentleman who made the above query was an observer simply. He did not know that underneath the gloves which the lady wore, were chilled fingers, and within the shoes were cold feet. Unfortunately, however, women are troubled with cold feet, benumbed fingers and a general feeling of chilliness, which is anything but conducive to good health and beauty. Do you ask what causes it? Thin blood and poor circulation. If the blood gets chilled the feet are certain to be cold; if it circulates poorly, colds, coughs, congestion and perhaps pneumonia are the result. Can this be prevented by warm clothing? Partly only. Clothing may warm the outside of the body, but the inside, where the blood circulates most, may still be chilled. Nothing can assist this but pure stimulant, and nothing is as good as whiskey. This is true, beyond a question, but nothing but pure medicinal whiskey will accomplish the result sought for. There is but one pure medicinal whiskey in America and that is Duffy's Pure Malt. This has been proven and verified over and over and however unscrupulous certain dealers may be, however they may try to foist cheap injurious goods upon you, do not let them deceive you. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has no equal and is the only preparation that can accomplish the end desired, namely, good, warm and pure blood kept healthily circulating.

TOLEDO, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 25.

Consultation and Examination Free and Strictly Confidential in the Private Parlor of the [illegible] House, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. one day only.

The Doctors describe the different diseases better than the sick can themselves. It is a wonderful gift for any one to possess. Their diagnostic powers have created wonders throughout the country.

The France Medical and Surgical Institute of Columbus, Ohio, is the only Medical Institute in the state incorporated with a capital of $300,000.

FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,
38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession.

CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, rich and poor. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.

WONDERFUL CURES Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred.

A WHEEL TAX

Urged Upon the Council by Mayor Emmick.

Business of the Board Last Evening—Oliver Street Sidewalk—The General Street Railway Ordinance.

At the meeting of the board of councilmen last evening all members were present except Messrs. Gill and Pheatt, and the former gentleman arrived before the session was over. The amount of business before the board was not large, and it was quickly disposed of.

Mr. Coleman introduced a resolution which was adopted, directing the city engineer to prepare and report plans for a bridge over Swan creek, between Monroe and Lafayette, at such point as he may deem most feasible.

A number of resolutions from the judiciary committee, allowing claims for abatement of assessments, were adopted, the total amount abated being $3,905.84.

An ordinance to turnpike Oak street, in Ironville, which came up on its second reading, was passed.

A resolution was adopted to pave Scottwood avenue, from Bancroft street to Virginia.

The resolution to improve Virginia street was referred back to the committee.

The report of the depository commission for the month was presented and placed on file.

The report of the ways and means committee meeting, held last evening, showed that there were no bids for the two lots of Superior street improvement bonds, and the auditor was instructed to sell the same at private sale for par and accrued interest.

A resolution from Mr. Walker was adopted, granting a free peddler's license to Joseph Fontaine for one year.

The resolution to locate the sidewalk on Oliver street in the middle of the sidewalk bed except on the block between Newton and Knapp streets was adopted unanimously and without discussion. Mr. Gill came in later, and moved to reconsider this action, but as he had not been present to vote on the question he was ruled out of order.

Mr. Caldwell, on leave, presented a resolution for a sewer in Yondota street. Referred to the sewer committee.

Mr. Neuendorf introduced a resolution declaring the office of constable now held by John O'Brien as vacant, for the reason that said O'Brien has not furnished a bondsman in place of one who withdrew from his surety. The resolution was adopted.

A resolution from Mr. Caldwell to grade Yondota street from First street to the Lake Shore tracks was referred to the street committee.

A petition for electric light on Front street near the Malleable iron works was referred to the committee.

An ordinance and a resolution were passed repealing the legislation for the improvement of Beacon street.

A resolution was adopted rescinding the resolution to grade Walnut street from Yates to Delaware, and the property owners were granted permission to grade the street from Yates to Frederick at their own expense.

The mayor returned with his veto a resolution directing the city solicitor to confess judgment to the amount of $1,500 in the claim of Edwin Williams against the city. Williams asks damages for personal injuries sustained by a fall caused by a defective sidewalk on Sumner street. The mayor thought that the city should not allow such large claims without a verdict of a court and jury. "We can not afford to be generous with the taxpayers' money," said the message.

The notice which the health officer had served on the mayor declaring the city pound a nuisance, was referred to the council, and they sent it to the committee on parks.

Another communication was presented by the mayor, urging the council to take some action toward having a wheel tax established in the city. This would relieve the burden of street taxation very much, stated the mayor, and he asked that the council have the matter brought before the coming session of the legislature. This was referred to the ways and means committee.

On motion of Mr. Coleman the general street railway ordinance was laid over for two weeks. This came back from the board of aldermen without concurrence in the amendments, and Mr. Coleman stated that one of the members of that board misunderstood the question, and did not vote as he intended.

The ordinance granting to the Robisons the right to construct a double track in Lawrence avenue was passed with an amendment which also included Bartlett street.

Other business from the upper board was adopted.

DRS. FRANCE & OTTMAN'S SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT OF CHRONIC DISEASES.

Our many readers who have been benefited by the remarkable skill of Drs. France & Ottman, will be pleased to know that they have decided to make a return visit to our city. The remarkable cures performed by Drs. France & Ottman have created wonder throughout the country. Drs. France & Ottman have originated and perfected a system of determining, with the greatest accuracy, the nature of chronic diseases by a personal examination of the patient. They obtain their knowledge of the patient's disease by the practical application of well established principles of modern science to the practice of medicine, and it is to the accuracy with which this system has endowed them that they owe their almost world-wide reputation in the skillful treatment of all lingering or chronic affection. The doctors have established an excellent reputation in this community and their practice has steadily increased until it is now undoubtedly the largest in the state. There is but one way to explain a success of this kind—they cure their patients—and their reputation has been honestly earned. Their cures are, in some instances, startling in their nature, having been performed after the highest authorities and the most celebrated representatives of the different schools of practice had pronounced the fiat of doom and declared them to be beyond the limits of the curable. A consultation on the above date will cost you nothing and it may be the means of bringing you health and happiness and make your life a pleasure instead of a burden.—The News.

Drs. France & Ottman, formerly of New York, now of the France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, have decided to visit Toledo, Wednesday, Nov. 25. Consultation and examination free and strictly confidential in the private parlor of the Burnett House, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.

ARRIVED IN NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 24.—It rather astonished Operator George Hogan at the ship news office last night when he received word of the arrival of the American schooner White Cloud from Chicago. So far as known the White Cloud is the first sailing vessel to reach New York from the inland lakes. She made the trip in 66 days, touching at Montreal and also at Portland, Me.

"DOWN TO SLEEP."

November woods are bare and still,
November days are clear and bright,
Each noon burns up the morning's chill,
The morning's snow is gone by night.
Each day my steps grow slow, grow light,
As through the woods I reverent creep,
Watching all things lie "down to sleep."

I never knew before what beds,
Fragrant to smell and soft to touch,
The forest sifts and shapes and spreads,
I never knew before how much
Of human sound there is, such
Low tones as through the forest sweep
When all wild things lie "down to sleep."

Each day I find new coverlids
Tucked in, and more sweet eyes shut tight;
Sometimes the viewless mother bids
Her ferns kneel down full in my sight,
I hear their chorus of "good night,"
And half I smile and half I weep,
Listening while they lie "down to sleep."

November woods are bare and still,
November days are bright and good,
Life's noon burns up life's morning chill,
Life's night rests feet that long have stood.
Some warm, soft bed in field or wood
The mother will not fail to keep
Where we can "lay us down to sleep."
—Helen Hunt Jackson.

It requires about 3,000 pounds of rose leaves to produce an ounce of attar of roses.

GUNCKEL'S LATEST.

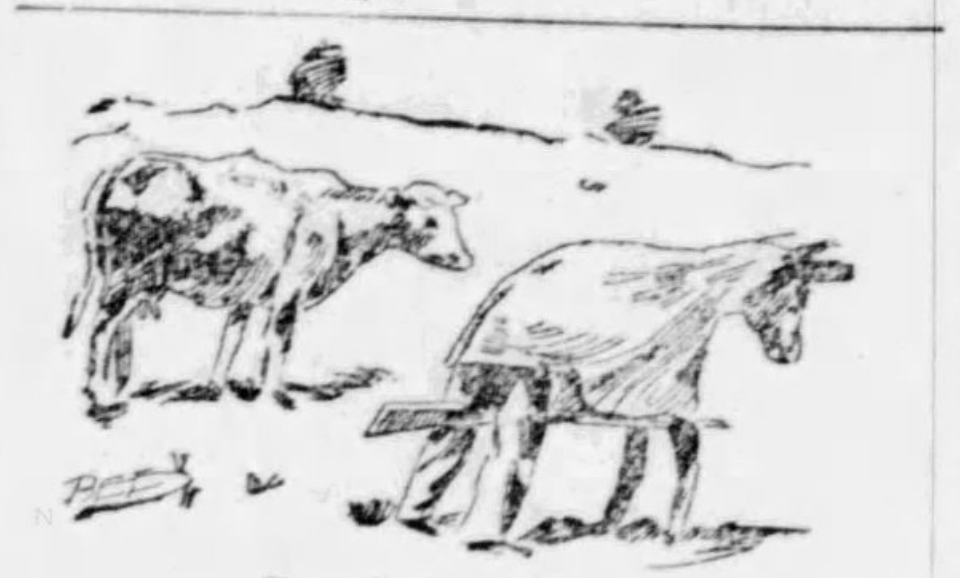
He Devises a Novel Plan for Shooting Duck.

That necessity is the mother of invention has again been illustrated very happily and aptly. John E. Gunckel, the noted fisherman, is also considerable of a huntsman and can drop a duck on the fly as neatly as Geo. Ketcham or any of the other experts.

Mr. Gunckel has patented a neat device for approaching ducks when on dry land. The plan will, perhaps, be best illustrated by photos taken on the spot. He invited a Bee to accompany him on a duck hunting expedition to the marshes, and as the marshes are completely free of water it was necessary to approach the birds on foot and not by boat as heretofore.

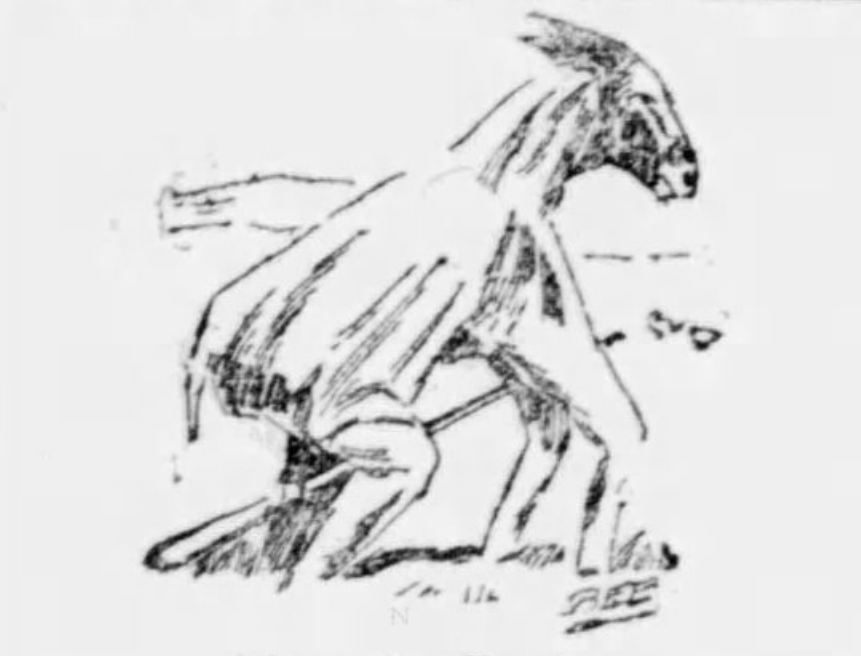
The Bee's kodak came in very convenient, and here are a few of the snaps caught on the fly:



Gunckel's Disguise.

The cow, it will be noticed in the cut, is the famous white cow belonging to John Kramer, and which hangs around the bridge on Ten Mile creek. The peculiarity about the cow is that she gives a kind of mineral milk which is said to mix agreeably with rum.

The second snap shot shows the shooting or "stalking" of a flock of ducks,



After the Ducks.

which he has spied on the edge of the channel. Cautiously he proceeds and lingers by the way somewhat as if browsing.

Stalking a Duck.

The third cut represents him in the act of firing at the flock which has risen and scattered.

It is unnecessary to state what the shot brought down. It will suffice to say that two weary swamp trampers eat a savory duck supper at Uncle Billy's a few hours later. The disguise is perfect, and Mr. Gunckel proposes to have it patented.

Getting the Ducks for Supper.

The Trapp-Sawyer Contest in the Courts.

Local and Personal Gossip from Up the River That Will Interest Readers of the Bee.

Maumee, Nov. 24.—(Special)—Messrs. W. W. Walcott and Richard English are in Houston, Texas, witnesses in the Trapp-Sawyer-Converse law case. Mrs. Trapp won the suit and the right to a one-half interest in the Sawyer estate, which is estimated to represent about $50,000. All parties interested in the suit once resided in Maumee. Sawyer deserted his wife here in 1838, leaving her and one daughter, now Mrs. Trapp. He went west and accumulated wealth. His death occurred in the fall of 1890.

Mr. and Mrs. Ral. Corbett, of Toledo, spent last Sunday with his mother in this city.

John Wagner had his right arm caught between the felt cloth and a drying cylinder of a paper machine at the upper mill last Saturday night. Result, a badly blistered arm and the tendons of one muscle wrenched from the bone. Dr. Kline fears the arm will hereafter be a useless member of his anatomy.

J. B. Battelle, of Toledo, laid his canvas boat in the weeds on Cottonwood Island last summer. The boys used the boat on several occasions and finally it was found floating down the river and was carried to the New Era office and advertised. J. B. now wants his boat, but the editor of the New Era will require him to bring letters of identification and recommendation from Gunckel, Lorenz and Lanz. He's in the soup.

Mr. Will J. Permar, representing R. G. Dun & Co.'s mercantile agency, is in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James English, of Toledo, were guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Mouthsa, in this city, over Sunday.

Next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Emma M. Hague, of Napoleon, will inspect Mitchell Post Woman's Relief Corps.

Mr. Mell Creps, of Toledo, spent last Sunday in this city, the guest of his mother Mrs. S. S. Creps.

Lou Sherman has opened a barber shop in the Rathbun building on West Wayne street.

Mrs. H. B. Lautzenheiser spent last Sunday in Grand Rapids, the guest of Mrs. Holder.

Misses Gertie Lautzenheiser, Jewel Hannum, May Swan and Eva Crain will spend Thanksgiving in Toledo, the guests of Miss Kate Norton, Thursday being Miss Norton's thirteenth birthday anniversary.

COSTIVENESS

If not relieved by judicious and timely treatment, is liable to result in chronic constipation. As an aperient that may be used with perfect safety and satisfaction, Ayer's Pills are unsurpassed. Unlike most cathartics, these pills, while they relax and cleanse, exert a tonic influence on the stomach, liver, and bowels, causing these organs to perform their functions with healthy regularity and comfort. Being purely vegetable and free from mineral drug of any kind, their use is not attended with injurious effects. Good for old and young of every climate, Ayer's Pills are everywhere the favorite. G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main street, Carlisle, Pa., says: "Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and I deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. I would not willingly be without them."

THE ELKS' SOCIAL

At the Merchants' Hotel Last Night.

Disappointment at Failure of Promised Guests to Put in an Appearance, But a Good Time Was Had Just the Same.

An Elk is never so happy as when surrounded by brothers and friends, gathered at the festal board of a social session.

It is here that the sorrows and business cares of life are laid aside, that brotherly love manifests itself, and the ties of fraternal kindredship are strengthened.

If the Elks ever participated in this pleasure, and royally entertained visiting brethren and friends, they outshone all past efforts at the splendid banquet given at the Merchants' hotel last night. Rich humor, touching pathos, bright and crisp speeches, anecdotes, entrancing music and sweet singing, all went to make up an evening of rare enjoyment.

At 9 o'clock the guests had arrived, and an hour was spent in social discourse. Promptly at 10 o'clock the doors of the banquet hall were thrown open, and the guests, 250 in number, were seated. The room was decorated with much taste. The table, extending from one end of the spacious hall to the other, was one profusion of rich foliage and choice flowers, arranged so as to produce a most charming effect. Beautiful Japanese lanterns of variegated and brightest colors cast their mellow and softened light; evergreens, festooned and garlanded, fairly covered the walls, and to complete it all a great elk head with gigantic towering antlers looked solemnly down upon the happy and enlivened scene.

The program was introduced in a short and appropriate address by Chairman H. A. Biossat, the host, who occupied a seat at the head of the table.

Assistant Chairman Ritchie sat next and was called upon to say something. Byron made a few remarks and called upon Charley Just to account for Gov. Campbell's defeat. Mr. Just gave it up, and was excused.

A violin and guitar duet was next rendered to the appreciation of all. The music of the evening was under the direction of Prof. Will Stackhouse, and it goes without saying that this feature was up with the general success of the evening.

Past Exalted Ruler James H. Southard delivered "The Address of Welcome," and his pleasant words caused the guests to feel at home from this on, if they had not before.

More music, after which the toast, "Our Order," was called. Grand Secretary Allen O. Meyer of Cincinnati was on the program for a response, but a telegram early in the evening announced his inability to attend. The chair appointed D. D. Plietzer to the post, and he did his duty well.

Charles B. Squire of Cleveland was to have responded to the toast, "The Ladies," but he was unable to be present, and the disappointment was forgotten in the pleasure produced by one of Dr. Claypool's happy and characteristic speeches, on whom the chair called to fill the number.

Here the boys called for Huber, and of course Joe responded with a warble or two that called forth repeated applause.

"Social Sessions" was responded to by Past Exalted Ruler D. T. West of Springfield, and the address was certainly one of the most entertaining and interesting feature of the evening. Aside from eloquently expounding the virtues and social relations of the order and the good of social sessions, he paid a beautiful tribute to the ladies. When he had concluded Dr. Claypool arose and remarked that this was the speech he had prepared, but had learned that Mr. West was going to deliver it, so he kindly withheld in favor of the visiting brother. This pleasant little compliment to Mr. West's splendid effort was duly appreciated by all and produced a humorous effect.

Grand Esteemed Leading Knight Frank E. Wright of Toledo lodge responded to the toast, "The Grand Lodge," and his knowledge of the inner workings and the history of Elkhood in every little detail manifested in his splendid address, is evidence of a devotion to the cause, true and unswerving.

Sandwiched between the various toasts, impromptu remarks were made by guests as called upon by the chairman to "tell a story, sing a song, make a speech or pay a fine," and with 250 guests present, it can be imagined that interest never wearied from beginning to end.

Members of the Nellie McHenry Dramatic company filling an engagement at the People's were present, and added to the pleasures of the hour by recitations and songs rendered in a manner that won the friendship of all and gave evidence of their talent and ability to entertain.

"The Elks are jolly good fellows, which nobody can deny."

"Well! Well!" That's the way you feel after one or two of Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets have done their work. You feel well, instead of bilious and constipated; your sick headache, dizziness and indigestion are gone. It's done mildly and easily, too. You don't have to feel worse before you feel better. That is the trouble with the huge, old-fashioned pill. These are small, sugar-coated, easiest to take. One little Pellet's a laxative, three to four are cathartic.

They regulate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels—quickly, but thoroughly. They're the cheapest pill, sold by druggists, because you only pay for the good you get.

They're guaranteed to give satisfaction, every time, or your money is returned.

That's the peculiar plan all Dr. Pierce's medicines are sold on.

"Value received, or no pay,"—you can't get these terms with any other medicines, at any price.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

London wheat market slow and weaker. Corn dull. Liverpool wheat dull and 1-2 pence lower. Corn dull.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 1,458,865 bu., compared with 701,043 bu. on the same day last year.

The imports into the United Kingdom for the week were 3,448,000 bu. of wheat, and 168,000 bbls. of flour, equal to 4,204,000 bu. of wheat, and 480,000 bu. of corn.

The quantity of flour and wheat on ocean passage increased last week 1,992,000 bus., being an increase to the United Kingdom of 2,104,000 bu. and a decrease to the Continent of 112,000 bu. corn increased 208,000 bu.

Our table here in of available wheat and corn shows an increase of 4,187,528 bu. wheat, and an increase of 352,392 bu. corn.

Shipments of wheat from India last week equaled 740,000 bu. Previous week 620,000 bu. From April 1, the commencement of the crop year, to November 21, 41,138,000 bu., compared with 22,960,000 bu. in the corresponding period in 1890.

Northwest Wheat Stocks.

Minneapolis, Nov. 23.—The northwestern stock of wheat is 18,902,827 bu., an increase for the week of 2,047,280 bu. A year ago the total stock was 18,625,000 bu. The Market Record says the stock in country elevators of Minnesota and the two Dakotas is 8,057,500 bu., an increase of 190,000 bu and 1,109,900 bu. respectively over a week ago.

The Northwestern Miller says: "The stocks of wheat in private elevators at Minneapolis is 1,493,000 bu., an increase during the week of 190,000 bu.

French Duty on Flour and Wheat.—The millers of France recently petitioned for an increased import duty on flour, which has been refused. The duty at present is $1.38 per barrel, and 26 1-2c per bu. on wheat. Corn or maize is free. Corn meal per barrel 86c.

The receipts of wheat to-day at seven principal western points are 757,822 bu in excess of the corresponding Tuesday in 1890.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were 375,712 bu of wheat and flour to an aggregate of 480,000 bu. The export of corn was 41,207 bu of oats 61,758 bu.

English markets as reported herein are dull and lower for wheat, and dull and steady for corn.

Russian Prohibition.

The interdiction of wheat exportation by Russia was stated in this circular repeatedly would be an event of little importance as a factor for advancing values of wheat. So it has proved to be. It is obvious that its effect was discounted some time since, and while there was a soda fizzle in the markets at its final corroboration, its effect has wholly petered out and disappeared.

And now the markets are hankering for something else as a stimulant. What shall it be? We give it up. Meantime the ocean stock of wheat to the continent has steadily declined. Since August 10 it has decreased 6,000,000 bu. That shows a present supply. England has increased her ocean stock since September 14, 9,600,000 bu. It now aggregates 23,840,000 bu. To our mind that indicates a stock that with our daily exportation will allay solicitude over there, and we can hardly look to England for excitements, and only for steady demand. Changing from a low lake freight to higher freights by rail, and with the enormous movement in the northwest, we don't easily see, with the naked eye, a chance for a present bulge in prices.

Potatoes.

As German crops of grain are defficient this year, it is a fair inference that her crop of potatoes will be consumed at home, as a substitute for grain, and that this country will not receive her importations, as formerly. Of course our markets are well supplied now, but it is in the spring and summer we have heretofore received importations from Germany.

We can think of nothing more handy, or more likely, to prove effective in this line than to resort to killing the American crop. It is weak and defenseless, and with the help of an early and severe winter, which Foster, of St. Joseph predicts, it can easily be accomplished.

Markets To-Day.

The bears in wheat have had a powerful clinch on the wheat markets to-day, and have made things hum. Bulletins of news have been scarce—dealers on the long side have dumped their holdings, and the markets are in mourning. The decline is greatest in Chicago, rather naturally at this time of year.

Corn is affording dealers a lively interest for the November deal. It seems to be a kind of natural corner and the price is climbing. For December and the year there is some sympathy and higher prices.

In New York November wheat closed 1 1-8c and December 1 1-4c lower. November corn 5c and December 1 5-8c higher. November and December oats unchanged.

In Chicago November wheat closed 1 5-8c lower, and December 1 1-2c. November corn 6 1-2c higher and December unchanged. November oats 1 1-4c lower.

In Toledo we have had an active market for wheat futures at lower prices. Opening prices were 1-2c to 5-8c lower, the prices rather steadily declining to a close of 1 1-2c lower on Dec. and May wheat.

On the call May sold at $1.05 1-8. After the call Dec. sold at 98c to 97c, May sold at $1.05 to $1.04 - 8, the lowest prices of the day.

Cash wheat was in moderate demand, but the sales were light, and the market closed 1-2c lower. No. 2 soft sold at 97 3-4@96 1-2c; No. 3 soft at 94 1-2@93 1-2c; rejected No. 1 at 89@88c; No. 2 white at 94c.

Corn—No. 2 at 54c; No. 3 at 47c; No. 4 at 44 1-2@45c.

Oats—No. 1 white at 35 1-2c.

Rye was 1c dearer. No. 2 at 95c; rejected at 86c.

Clover Seed was a little weak at opening, but closed firm at yesterday's prices. On the cal March sold at $5 35. After the call prime for cash at $5 25; February at $5 30; closing at $5 32 1-2. March $5 37 1-2; No. 2 at $5 05 to $5 10.

Seed Market.

A very reliable firm at Goshen, Ind., writes as follows concerning clover seed: "There will be no demand hereabouts till about March. We knew that our county was pretty well drained of seed but had not thought it so bad as it now is. There has not been a bushel of seed on the market for three days, and what is more, there is not the inquiry which an advance usually brings from those who have seed to sell."

CARMENCITA

Charms a Big Audience at Wheeler's Opera House.

Opening of Nellie McHenry's Engagement—That Charming Jane—Other Coming Attractions.

The Wheeler opera house last evening contained the largest audience of the season to greet Carmencita, the Spanish dancer, and it was composed largely of the wealthy and fashionable people of the city.

Carmencita, the star of the evening, appeared but once on the program, but she was a revelation to a Toledo audience, as she has been wherever she appears. Her wonderful dancing is distinctly original and entirely different from that of any other artist in her line. She dances with her whole body as well as with her feet, all her movements being carried out with a wonderful grace and in perfect time to the music. Carmencita is a handsome woman, of fine form, and her evolutions in the inspiring Spanish dance show a suppleness of limb and body that is exceptional.

She was accompanied in her dance by a troupe of Spanish students, under the direction of Signor Pablo Echepare, who, it transpires, is the charming dancer's husband, the marriage having taken place in New York last August.

The audience showed their appreciation of Carmencita by generous applause, and the excellent music of the Spanish students also received several encores.

The balance of the program consisted of specialties from Koster & Bial's Vaudeville company and with one or two exceptions was first-class and received hearty encores.

A Night at the Circus.

Nellie McHenry opened a week's engagement at the People's last evening with a new farce comedy of the above title. She has with her a good company of excellent comedians, pretty girls and first-class specialty artists and a "Night at the Circus" is full of good things.

The piece abounds in catchy songs and several novelties in the way of dancing were introduced.

The last act showing a scene in the dressing room of Bonanza's Great Imperial Circus was very realistic and made a hit. The piece will undoubtedly have a good week.

"The Still Alarm" is the attraction at this theater next week.

History of a Fine Lithograph.

People about town are talking about a lithograph which hangs in the windows. It probably seems very nonsensical that grown up people should talk about anything so ordinary when there are thousands of lithographs displayed in Toledo every week, but it so happens that this particular lithograph is most extraordinary and it has a history. It is the picture of a woman's head cut off sharply just under the chin so that the features stand out prominently and make a most peculiar effect. The woman is laughing, and from the appearance of the mouth it isn't the "merrie ripping girlish titter" of fiction, but an old-fashioned, backsplitting "go-till-you-have-it-over-with" sort of a laugh.

Under the head is the word "Jane." "Jane" is the bright English comedy which has just closed its long run at the Madison Square theater and comes next Wednesday night to Wheeler's opera house. "Johnnie" Bennett, or when she puts it in a more dignified fashion—Johnstone Bennett—is the clever little character actress who plays the leading part in the comedy. Miss Bennett has hazel eyes which gleam roguishly from their large orbits, but it is her laugh which has contributed toward making her famous in New York.

One day Chas. Frohman entered the Madison Square theater very quietly to hear a rehearsal of "Jane." So quietly, in fact, did he enter the building that the several players on the stage did not observe their manager seat himself in one of the back rows of the orchestra circle. Miss Bennett was laughing at the time. She was evidently unusually tickled over something. She threw back her pretty head, exposed her "quarrelets of pearls" and laughed long and loud.

It was prodigal with summery shine, but Miss Bennett was suddenly brought to a state of composure by the voice of Mr. Froham from the rear saying: "That is very good, Miss Bennett. We will lithograph the laugh." Accordingly the laugh was communicated by the photographer to the printer and the saucy head which is attracting so much attention is a reproduction of Miss Bennett's now celebrated laugh.

Rhea.

This favorite actress will appear at Wheeler's in three performances of "La Czarina" this week, Thursday afternoon and evening and Friday evening. Next season Rhea will remain abroad, playing her famous characters in her native tongue in France, Holland, Belgium not returning to this country until the fall of 1893.

This will be last chance to see Rhea for two years to come.

Clemenceau Case.

W. A. Brady's Clemenceau Case will be the attraction at Wheeler's next Saturday, matinee and night.

This play is one of great strength dramatically, and possesses a strong human interest. It follows the novel of the same name, and all the salient incidents are well brought out. It is difficult to discover whether the novel or the play is the better.

There has been considerable discussion over the studio scene, the Boston wise men going so far as to stop the performances. Modification has followed, and this has been affected without any sacrifice of dramatic interest or value. There is much action and strong emotional passages in this play, so the interest does not depend upon any one incident.

The company presenting it is, with a few exceptions, the original New York cast, Miss Sybil Johnstone continuing as Iza.

DEATH OF A SOLDIER.

Just before noon on Saturday last William Holt died of congestion of the lungs. Comrade Holt was a member of the 182d regiment, O. V. I., during the war. At the close of the war he made his home in Toledo, where he has been engaged in business up to the time of his death. Comrade Holt was a brave soldier in war and an excellent citizen in times of peace, beloved and respected by all who knew him. A wife and three children survive the dead soldier.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The officers of Forsythe Post, G. A. R., of which he was an honored member, conducted the funeral ceremony at the family residence and business place, corner of Broadway and the Wabash railway crossing, with the beautiful service of the organization. At the conclusion of the G. A. R. service, General P. S. Slevin delivered a very touching sermon, recounting the duty which we owe to each other as fellow men and comrades, and extolling the military character of Comrade Holt in such feeling terms that many an eye unused to the shedding of tears, was perceptably moistened.

At the termination of the exercises, Chaplain Slevin announced that, on account of an other engagement and the extreme bad weather, further services would be dispensed with at the cemetery. Upon viewing the remains by the relatives and friends present, the cavalcade of Grand Army men and the friends and relatives took up the line of sorrowful march to Forest cemetery. Arriving there the remains of William Holt were silently and reverently laid to rest in the family burying lot, no formal exercise taking place beyond the affectionate placing, by each soldier comrade, of a sprig of evergreen upon the coffin of the departed friend and heroic comrade. One was forcibly reminded in this silent burial of William Holt, of the laying to rest of Sir John Moore:

> "Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note,
> As the corse to the ramparts we hurried,
> Not a soldier discharged a farewell shot
> O'er the grave where our hero was buried."

MOST PEOPLE
Know only a comparatively few things thoroughly—all else is more or less uncertain.
Take your own case. What do you know about CARPETS, for instance? Are you competent to detect poor materials, or imperfect weaving, or unreliable colorings, or old-style patterns?
No.
Then will it not be wisdom on your part to make your purchases of CARPETS where all these points are taken care of in your interest, and where you are protected, not only from direct misrepresentation, but from the results of your own inexperience?
That seems plain enough.
Just two things we promise every customer. They are these:
That every salesman shall tell the whole truth about every piece of goods offered for sale; that anything which proves imperfect, through the appearance of any hidden defect subsequent to purchase, shall be made right.
The name of our firm stands behind these two guarantees.
Very likely you are thinking of purchasing one or more CARPETS shortly. If so, consider what we have said.

A Guarantee
The cheapest furnace man in the world will give you a guarantee to heat your house. But what satisfaction do you get when the weather is at zero, or 10 below, and the furnace does not heat your house? The change cannot be made then, and you must suffer until the weather will permit to make the change. Is it not best to give the job to one whose reputation is a guarantee that your house will be heated during the coldest weather?

CURED BY INHALATION.

THE REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE OF H. C. BENSMAN, OF THE SMITH BRIDGE COMPANY.

He Suffered Four Years with Catarrh, Bronchitis and Asthma, and Also Had a Terrible Skin Disease All His Life.

In accordance with a promise to the Bee a few days ago Dr. Kalkhoff, the great European specialist, consents to the publication of the following testimonial from Mr. H. C. Bensman, of the Smith Bridge company. This grateful and fortunate gentleman took treatment nearly a year ago, so that he has had ample opportunity to know whether his cure is permanent.

It should be borne in mind that Dr. Kalkhoff never publishes testimonials of cures by himself or staff until from six months to a year after treatment. This is the best possible evidence that he and assistants are genuine skilled medical and surgical specialists. Their high professional methods are in striking contrast with catarrh and other medical fakirs who give a few free treatments of cocaine or some other deadly drug that will open up the nasal air passages long enough for them to get a testimonial with which to catch suckers.

By means of Dr. Kalkhoff's automatic hydraulic inhalation machine, medicated air and compressed medicated gasses are forced into every cavity in the nose, head, throat and lungs, where no liquid or spray can possibly go. In this way catarrh, bronchitis, asthma, consumption and all other head, nose, throat and lung diseases are permanently cured by specific remedies carried directly to diseased parts, as it were, on the wings of compressed air and gasses. This mode of treatment recommends itself at once to all intelligent thinking people.

H. C. Bensman's Testimony.

For four years I suffered from catarrh, bronchitis and asthma. Many physicians in Toledo treated me without avail. Finally I was advised that if I wanted to save my life I should leave this climate and go west. This was last February. My cough and spells of difficult breathing were getting worse all the time. I was daily losing flesh. Could not sleep any, but had to cough all night. I had given up all hopes of ever getting well again. I finally started the wonderful INHALATION treatment with Dr. Kalkhoff, the great European specialist, who after a short course has entirely cured me. I feel to-day better than I ever felt in my life, and am working at my trade as a machinist at the Smith Bridge company's works every day. I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Kalkhoff's wonderful Inhalation treatment. Another disease that I had was universal eczema, a skin affection I had all my lifetime, for which to cure I have spent hundreds of dollars, but all to no avail. Dr. Kalkhoff cured this terrible skin disease for me in a few weeks by his great European treatment for skin diseases.

H. C. BENSMAN,
1345 Oak street, East Toledo.

The elegant offices, parlors and laboratory of Dr. Kalkhoff, the great European Specialist, and his staff of assistants occupy the entire upper floors of the block at Nos. 505 and 507 Summit street, between Oak and Orange streets, Toledo, Ohio. Office hours 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.; Sundays, 9 to 12 a. m. and 3 to 4 p. m. Professional charges low and according to the difficulty of cases to be cured. Dr. Kalkhoff and staff are busy treating hundreds of cases from all parts of the United States.
